BROTHERHOODS WILL ASK FOR SIX HOUR DAY

700 Representatives Will Meet Nov. 12 In Chicago

Cleveland, Oct. 21.—(AP)—A movement to bring about a six hour working day in American rail transportation industry will be inaugurated in Chicago Nov. 12, when 700 representatives of seven labor organizations in the field meet to consider unemployment relief and establishment of a shorter working day, it was learned tonight.

Representatives of all railroad labor groups in the United States and Canada will attend the conference.

The six hour day campaign is to follow the movement by which the eight hour day came into effect, it was understood. The latter movement was climaxed in 1916 by passage by congress of the Adamson bill just before a threatened strike of the "big four" brotherhoods was scheduled to go into effect.

Leading Way

In connection with the shorter day campaign, it was recalled that establishment of the eight hour day in the railroad industry by congressional action in 1916 was followed by its general adoption. The likelihood was seen that the railroad unions were now leading the way toward possible general adoption of the six hour day.

Calling of the Chicago conference was announced by David B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginmen. He said that it would also include the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Order of Railroad Conductors, the Switchmen's Union of North America, American Train Dispatches Union and Order of Railroad Telegraphers.

SAYS HOOVER TO SUPPORT WHOLE G. O. P. TICKET

President's Desires in Pennsylvania Matter of Debate

Pittsburgh, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Whether or not President Hoover has endorsed the entire Republican ticket in the forthcoming election in Pennsylvania was a disputed question in the Keystone state political situation tonight.

Clifford Pichot, Republican gubernatorial nominee, in a radio address at Washington, Pa., today said:

"President Hoover has sent word by Secretary James J. Davis, one of his cabinet officers, that he stands for and desires the election of the whole Republican ticket in Pennsylvania. And no one who has the slightest knowledge of national affairs can doubt that the election of the whole Republican ticket in Pennsylvania is most necessary." Davis is the Republican nominee for United States senator from Pennsylvania.

Yesterday, in an address at a Republican rally at Uniontown, at which Pinchot also spoke, Davis said:

"The president has not endorsed any candidate and he cannot even endorse me and I am a member of his cabinet. The late President Wilson got himself in a devil of a fix in this respect several years ago."

No statement was immediately forthcoming from the white house in Washington tonight. Davis, however, it was said in a Washington dispatch, indicated the statements he made at Uniontown yesterday represented the only public expression he wished to make at this time.

Pinchot, who arrived in Pittsburgh late today after campaigning in Greene and Washington counties during the day, declined any comment because of the lack of confirmation from Washington of anything the president may have said.

Steal 150 Miles of Copper Wire From High Line

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Three men were arrested today, charged with stealing 150 miles of copper wire from high tension lines between Grand Rapids and Marshall, Mich.

Neal R. Black, head of the detective division of the Michigan department of justice, said the men risked their lives to climb steel towers and dismantle lines charged with 144,000 volts. Those under arrest are Charles Garnett, Battle Creek; Mike Eikelbery, Wyoming Park, and Everett Glazier, Grand Rapids.

GLORIA SWANSON WOULD DIVORCE THIRD HUSBAND

Files Suit Charging Marquis Coudraye With Desertion

Los Angeles, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Gloria Swanson, motion picture star, filed suit for divorce today against the Marquis Henri de la Falaise de la Coudraye, her third husband. She charged desertion.

The marquis said he had expected the action.

"We have come to the parting of the ways," he said, "and if she wants a divorce I will accede to her every wish. We still are the best of friends. Everything moves too swiftly in Hollywood for a happy marriage."

The actress confined her complaint to a paragraph. The action said her titled husband "willfully and maliciously abandoned and deserted her and persisted in said desertion and abandonment against her will."

The desertion was said to have occurred September 18, 1929. The complaint said the two were married in Paris, January 28, 1925, adding that there were no children and no community property.

Before leaving Hollywood on a motor trip last week, Miss Swanson admitted the matter of a divorce had been placed in the hands of her attorney.

This was the actress' third matrimonial venture. Wallace Berry, screen actor, divorced her in 1919 on charges of desertion. Four years later her second husband, Herbert Somborn, wealthy Pasadena resident, divorced her because "she placed her career above everything else."

Inability of the Marquis to obtain permission from immigration authorities to live permanently in this country and his employment by a film company abroad forced the couple to remain abroad much of the time. When he returned from his last European trip he went to a Hollywood hotel instead of to his wife's Beverly Hills mansion.

The Marquis has been seen considerably with Constance Bennett, screen actress. Asked concerning her, he said they were "good friends." He added he might be married again if he became divorced, commenting, "who can tell what is going to happen in the future?"

83,500 PERSONS REPORTED IDLE IN DETROIT

Greater Majority Records are Able to Support Themselves

Detroit, Oct. 21—(AP)—There are no bread lines or soup kitchens in this automotive center and yet there are 83,500 persons who have registered with municipal agencies as being idle.

The great majority of these, records showed today, have so far been able to support themselves and families without appealing to charity. This has been possible, in the main, by falling back on resources laid away for the proverbial rainy day. When wages were high the workmen were able to make regular deposits in savings banks and invest money in homes and automobiles.

Now that the weekly payroll has become a memory for many, these workers have converted property into money with which to purchase food and clothing.

Detroit has been able accurately to gauge its unemployment problem through Mayor Frank Murphy's employment committee in registering those out of work. The total number of idle will not be known until some weeks hence but officials estimate the number at 100,000.

Out of this army of unemployed humanity the recognized relief agencies are supporting 15,000 families and 1,000 single men. The dependent persons reached this number after a steady growth from a low point of 9,500 in June. Only in March, 1930, when it reached 16,900, was the number of dependent families greater.

MRS. M'CORMICK DEFENDS G. O. P. MARKETING ACT

Attacks Lewis Votes Of Legislative Farm Issues

Chicago, Oct. 21 —(AP)— Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, Republican candidate for United States senator, talked to the farmers of Illinois tonight over radio station WLS. She contradicted statements made about her by James Hamilton Lewis, her Democratic opponent, defended the agricultural marketing act and the high tariff, and attacked Lewis' own legislative votes on farm issues.

Finally, Mrs. McCormick pleaded with the voters, in these hard times, not to risk harder times by changing administrations now.

"My friends," she said, "we are striving against conditions that are not attributable to any Republican act of commission or omission. Political upheavals and wars in other countries have exercised a depressing influence on our business and industry. Tragic unemployment conditions abroad, far more serious than the situation in America, have cut down the world's buying power. Our markets have suffered thereby. We are witnessing a national reaction to an orgy of gambling that brought a crash in stocks. We have had droughts and we have had floods.

"Shall we now add to our trouble by sending a majority to congress whose constant resistance to the administration will paralyze further government efforts to banish unemployment, stimulate foreign trade and hasten the restoration of prosperity and security in American homes?

"This is not a campaign between individuals. We must choose rather between parties, basing our judgement upon the records of the two parties with relation to their service to the whole people over three-quarters of a century. This is not a time to follow those who would break down rather than build up. Republican policies and principles—have brought the nation through times of stress in other days. The Republican Party may be trusted to meet the present emergency. In order to do so, it must have a congress working with the executive branch. Co-operating with no other object than the well-being of the people. Division now, more than any other time in many years, means peril. Confidence, and united action mean a new and brighter day. We must not stop, nor retreat."

FEW CONVICTIONS IF WOMEN SAT ON JURIES IS CLAIM

Believes Fair Sex Would be Lenient With Men Defendants

Granite City, Ill., Oct. 21.—(AP)—There would be "fewer convictions" if women sat on juries, Judge Louis Bernreuter of Nashville, Ill., said tonight at a banquet of the Professional and Business Women's clubs of Granite City.

"It is claimed there would be more convictions of criminals with women on juries," he said. "I believe there would be fewer, the influence of sex may cause male jurors to be lenient with female defendants, but would not the same influence do much more harm with women on the jury being lenient with male defendants?

"Most major crimes are committed by men. We have about 5,000 and only 80 women in the penitentiaries at present. In over 20 years I have tried a few women for murdering worthless, tyrannical husbands. They were found not guilty. Nobody complained.

"Our miscarriages of justice in criminal cases are not caused by the juries. The principal hindrance is that trial courts are compelled to follow hundreds of antiquated, absurd technical rules of law. Downstate juries convict six out every ten defendants in spite of these rules, but many of these verdicts are set aside by the trial judges in an effort to comply with the rules.

"After this, the supreme court of Illinois steps in and reverses 41 out of every 100 cases considered. Out of 291 cases thus reversed, 222 defendants escaped further prosecution principally because after several years of dragging the courts the state's attorney became discouraged and witnesses lost interest or got away."

A grandson, John Paul Scripps, 18, whom Mr. McRae had raised since the boy's parents died in 1914, is bequeathed all the personal possessions and real estate holdings in San Diego. In addition, he created a $50,000 trust fund for the youth's education and expressed the wish that he become a newspaper man. George "Bugs" Moran Taken By Chicago Police Declares He Is Thru With The Racket

Chicago, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The law caught up with George (Bugs) Moran today, harassing him with such charges as vagrancy and carrying concealed weapons, and questioning him about numerous slayings and other major crimes.

The search that started June 9 when Jake Lingle, the Tribune reporter, fell mortally wounded in a pedestrian tunnel, ended early today in a small roadhouse west of Waukegan, Ill. The Lake county (Waukegan) state's attorney and five private detectives made the raid, and Moran, after he saw who it was, made no resistance.

Lingle was a close friend of "Scarface Al" Capone, so when the reporter was shot down from the back, the police inclined to the theory that the gang headed by Capone's arch-enemy, Moran, might have had something to do with it.

Moran had disappeared, however, and where Zuta, Moran's lieutenant, was killed as a supposed sequel to the Lingle slaying, the plot thickened and the search for the gang leader was intensified.

There were numerous other things the police wanted to talk to Moran about, including the unsolved Valentine's Day massacre of seven of his henchmen last year, but when he was captured as he slept this morning, the charge was vagrancy.

A pistol was found under Moran's pillow, so he was also charged with carrying concealed weapons. After Chicago police had arrived to rearrest him, he was released by Lake county authorities on $5,000 bail for each charge.

WOMAN DENIES SHE MURDERED STEPDAUGHTER

Mrs. Pearl O'Loughlin Kneels In Prayer Before Casket

Denver, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Mrs. Pearl O'Laughlin, kneeling in prayer before the body of her stepdaughter, Leona O'Loughlin, 10, denied tonight she had killed the child.

"So help me God," she cried, throwing her arms high, "I know nothing about this death."

Denied freedom on a writ of habeas corpus, Mrs. O'Loughlin then was returned from the mortuary to the city jail for further questioning in connection with the slaying of Leona, whose body was found in Berkeley Lake here last Thursday.

Leo O'Loughlin, city detective and father of the child, seriously ill a week with an ailment diagnosed as resulting from the eating of ground glass, left his hospital bed today to assist in the investigation.

"My first duty is to give Leona a proper burial," O'Loughlin said. "After that I am going to take an active part in the investigation of her death. I want to see justice done, regardless of whose toes are trampled upon."

The child is to be buried tomorrow at Fort Collins, Colo., by the side of her mother, who died a year ago.

Mrs. O'Loughlin made her first appearance in court as the writ was sought by her attorneys. District Judge James C. Starkweather set 10 o'clock Friday morning as the time for a formal hearing. He warned, however, that she would not be released "pending a reasonable investigation of this terrible thing."

Physicians say laboratory tests have indicated the child and her father were fed ground glass. The detective became ill Tuesday night and was taken to a hospital. The child's disappearance was not discovered until Wednesday. Her body was found the next day.

CORONER'S JURY CONTINUES PROBE

Jackson, Minn., Oct. 21.—(AP)—A coroner's jury which sought today to determine how Martin Johnson of Rockford, Ill., came to his death near Wilder Monday failed to obtain enough evidence on which to base a verdict and will continue its deliberations tomorrow.

Coroner N. A. Biorn said he is awaiting word from relatives of the dead man before a further investigation. Johnson's body was found on a railroad right-of-way with a shot through the head. A revolver was found by his side.

The coroner said lack of powder burns caused him to believe it possible the man was slain.

A brother of Johnson, John Moline, at St. Charles, Ill., has been notified.

OSCAR DEPRIEST ATTACKS LEWIS

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 21—(AP)—Oscar DePriest, negro congressman from Chicago, addressed a Republican rally at city hall here tonight, denouncing James Hamilton Lewis, Democratic nominee for senator, and indorsing the candidacy of Ruth Hanna McCormick. VETERANS CHARITY RACKET BROKEN UP BY POLICE CLAIM

Assistant States Attorney Says Men Collected More Than $75,000

Chicago, Oct. 21.—(AP)—A complaint by Walker Whiteside, actor, led today to a raid on a loop office which assistant State's Attorney Charles E. Lounsbury said broke up a veteran' charity racket that has taken $75,000 from the public since 1926.

Nine girls and five men were taken in the raid. The girls were freed after questioning, but the men, Lounsbury said, will be booked tomorrow. They are "Col." Nicholson Korngold, Solly Weinberg, Thomas L. Foye, Maurice Milton and Jacob Karchmer, alias E. S. Harris, who Lounsbury said was arrested in St. Louis, Mo., several years ago in a mail order fraud called "Pawnee Bill's Blind Tie."

Whiteside, playing at a theater here, was approached by telephone for a contribution to veterans in the governmental hospital here. Willing to give, he was told to give cash to a "duly accredited collector" who would call in person. This roused suspicions and when the collector took Whiteside's $2, he was trailed to the office and the raid followed. Milton was the collector. Books seized showed that most of the money went to Korngold, Lounsbury asserted.

Letterheads bearing the names of several prominent men, but Loupsbury said he had not time to learn if the names were used with permission. The charity also used the name of Illinois World War Veterans, he said.

100 KILLED BY EXPLOSION IN GERMAN MINE

One Ton Of Dynamite Explodes 1200 Feet Below Surface

Alsdorf, Germany, Oct. 22.—(Wednesday)—(AP)—The death toll of those killed as a ton of dynamite exploded in No. 2 shaft of the Anna mine yesterday rolled up steadily today. The totals varied from estimates of 96 to 131 and the final number may be even greater.

No one knows how many men of the 663 on the shift escaped without harm, or how many yet remain in the mine whether dead or alive, but the number grew hourly as work continued all last night and carried thru this morning.

At midnight officials of the company told The Associated Press that 96 bodies had been found—20 of them killed by the collapse of the administration building above surface—and 98 were in the hospital with injuries.

The correspondent of the Wolff News Agency said at 1:30 a. m. that his check showed 131 dead—96 already in the mortuaries with 35 more dead in the debris-filled mine shafts not yet brought to the surface. He estimated that 140 others, presumably alive, were still in a lower shaft awaiting rescue.

At 2:24 a. m. the Telegraphen Union representative notified his agency that 105 dead already had been placed in mortuaries and that 124 men were still entombed.

The men assumed still to be alive are in a shaft 1,550 feet below the surface, or 350 feet further down than those who died following the blast in No. 2. Ventilation and pumping machinery, at first thrown entirely out of order, has been repaired and rescue workers are making frantic efforts to get at the entombed miners.

Alsdorf, Germany, Oct. 21. —(AP)— The explosion of a ton of dynamite in the No. 2 shaft of the Anna Coal Mine here early this morning killed probably 100 men.

The number has not been definitely established, with the Prussian Government Press Bureau estimating 100, and mine officials calculating the total as less, but 60 bodies had been recovered by 9 o'clock tonight and it was felt more would be found.

In addition, 76 miners are in the hospital, with the likelihood of some of them dying, while about 150 others still are waiting rescue from a gallery beneath the scene of the explosion. Relief experts believe part of these, who will be reached from neighboring galleries not damaged, will be found in time.

The explosion, which occurred 1200 feet below the surface, dealt death and destruction for miles around and brought grief to the 10,000 inhabitants of this mining town. All day long weeping wives and children waited outside the pit mouth.

CLAIM MISSING BANKER PHONED NEW YORK HOME

Deputy Attorney General Continues Probe of Enterprise

New York, Oct. 31—(AP)—A reported telephone call from Charles V. Bob in Akron, Ohio, to his Fifth avenue home last Friday lent new impetus today to the search for the promoter, missing since Oct. 5.

In the course of his scrutiny of Bob's various stock enterprises, Deputy Attorney eGneral Staples of the state bureau of securities, questioned William J. Mellody and Louis P. Jubien, officers of the Consolidated Chromium corporation, a Bob enterprise. One of them, Staples said, told him of the telephone call.

Mrs. Bob did not speak with her husband, Staples said, but the state official announced his intention of questioning her "within 24 hours" to see what she may know of the call. Staples said he was told Bob talked only with the maid at his home.

The number of investors hit by the collapse of Metal and Mining Shares, Inc., an investment trust sponsored by Bob, was set at between 3,500 and 4,000 by Staples today. At first it was believed there were very few small investors, but the books showed, Staples said, that persons all over the country, especially in New England, the middle west and the eastern provinces of Canada, bought stock in the company.

An audit report showing 22 Bob enterprises, several with subsidiaries and subsidiaries of subsidiaries, was made public by the bureau of securities.

No Search Planned

Akron, Ohio, Oct. 21—(AP)—Authorities here have not been asked to join in the search for Charles V. Bob, missing New York promoter, who was reported to have telephoned his home from here last Friday, police headquarters said tonight.

Police had not heard of the reputed telephone call and had no information as to Bob's whereabouts at any time, it was added. No search is planned unless New York police request it and provided a description or other information upon which to work.

JUDGE COOK TO STUDY MODERN WOODMEN CASE

Says Importance Of Case Calls For Deep Thought

Nashville, Ill., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Judge Silas Cook in the Washington county circuit court, withheld opinion at the conclusion of two days of fiery argument of the Modern Woodmen of America injunction hearing early tonight.

The judge advised both counsel for the members who are endeavoring to enjoin the society from collecting the increased insurance rate and attorneys representing the society, that owing to the vast importance of the case that he wished time to give it deep consideration and study before passing judgment. He made no intimation, however, as to when he would issue a ruling on the case.

In the opening argument yesterday, counsel for the protesting group charged "the action of state representatives of the Modern Woodmen at the head camp meeting in Chicago in 1929 when the rates were passed upon constituted a fraud upon the membership."

Answer Charges

In answer to the charges, attorneys for the society denied that any fraudulent acts occurred in connection with the passing upon the increased rates at the Chicago meeting. They termed the charges "ridiculous, slanderous and falsehoods."

In reply, counsel for the complainants waving his hand wildly, cried, "If they say these issues are lies, there is a state's attorney downstairs. They say everything with two meanings," he added, "so that they can back track."

Attorneys for the protest group said that if the restraining order is not issued the organization would lose 50 percent of its members. On the other hand, counsel for the society told the court that if the injunction is granted the society would become insolvent. "It would tear down with one stroke what has taken nearly a half of century to build up."

Attorneys for the society said the proposition of increased rates was placed before the delegates attending the Chicago meeting when it was found the old rates were inadequate, and that licenses to write insurance in many states would be cancelled unless action was taken at once.

ARREST SUSPECTS FOR THE SLAYING OF G. E. BUCKLEY

Two Men and One Woman Being Held by Chicago Police Officials

Chicago, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Police divulged tonight that two men and a woman arrested here yesterday are wanted in Detroit, Mich., in connection with the murder there last July of Gerald E. Buckley, radio announcer.

The three held are Joe (Eaglebeak) Miller, Al Bernstein and Julia Russle, widow of Henry (Hoops-a-Daisy) Connors, Pander who was assassinated a year ago here.

The police announcement here was made after Detroit police had wired that they will arrive tomorrow to take charge of the prisoners. Habeas corpus proceedings were filed for Miller today, it was learned tonight, and it is expected that all three will resist extradition. Miller comes up for hearing before Chief Justice John P. McGoorty in criminal court tomorrow.

Chicago police had no knowledge of the evidence to be produced against the three. Buckley was slain in the lobby of a Detroit hotel as he read newspaper reports of the campaign in which he had started to recall Mayor Bowles.

ARTHUR WOODS TO HEAD NEW ORGANIZATION

Former Commissioner Of Police Named By Hoover

Washington, Oct. 21 —(AP)— A national organization to deal with unemployment problems began to take shape today when President Hoover, after a conference with a special group of cabinet members, announced designation of Colonel Arthur Woods, a former New York police commissioner, to head it.

An immediate muster of plans and personnel under his direction was forecast, though the President withheld for the time a specific statement of means to be adopted. It was indicated the administration hoped to bring into cooperation all the necessary units of local government and private industry to mitigate individual suffering.

While the President is said to regard the situation as serious, particularly as unemployment has a drought problem running parallel to it which entails efforts both in city and agricultural zones, he also is anxious to prevent exaggeration in discussions of the subject.

Many Unemployed.

From data now in the hands of the federal government, largely compiled by the census and labor branches, the number of unemployed workers was placed at 3,500,000 and it was pointed out 1,000,000 persons are always so unemployed.

There were the usual reports to the effect that the next step in the federal employment program would be directed toward stimulating public work expenditure, probably upon a large scale, but there were no official statements outlining this and it was not believed definite proposals would come until Colonel Woods assumed his duties.

Ia was considered certain a gathering would be summoned soon, either by the President, or by Colonel Woods to assemble advisors of responsibility and knowledge whose opinion will guide the main direction of action.

Discuss Plans.

Among the plans already discussed by the cabinet committee, Secretary Hurley indicated today consideration had been given one under which employment would be divided among a larger number of individuals working a shorter time.

SCHOOL BOY IS LATE TO CLASS; FINDS BODIES

Youth Discovers Family of Six Dead on Floor of Nearby Home

Washburn, Wis., Oct. 21— (AP) —A schoolboy's excuse for tardiness revealed today how a father had slain his wife and four children, then committing suicide.

Robert Thorsen, on his way to school, stopped at the home of George Froseth, 60, assistant postmaster, to return a book. The door was locked, and when he loked through a window he saw the body of Mrs. Froseth.

"There's something wrong at the Froseth home" he told his tecaher, explaining why he was late.

The teacher went on with classes, and at recess notified authorities.

The found the bodies of Mrs. Froseth, 45; George Jr., 11; Adelaide and Neil, twins 9, and "Bootsie," six years old. The husband had beaten them to death with a hammer, and had slashed his own throat with a razor.

The authorities believe Froseth became suddenly insane in the night, and went from room to room, beating the sleepers, after which he went to an upstairs bathroom and fatally wounded himself. He had staggered downstairs and as far as the living room, where the body was found.

Froseth had held public office here for many years, and had been active in political life. He had suffered several nervous breakdowns in the last several years, friends said. His accounts were in order, and he was in no financial difficulty.

An inquest into the deaths was started by Coroner Edwin H. Bratley.

GENERAL COXEY VISITS LAMONT

Washington, Oct. 21.—(AP)—General Jacob S. Coxey of Massillon, Ohio, who led an army of unemployed to Washington in 1894, and thereby gained his military title, came to Washington today—alone—and tomorrow will lay before Secretary Lamont of the commerce department, his "solution" of the 1930 unemployment problem.

General Coxey's arrival today was as quiet as his first "invasion" was noisy. After registering at a downtown hotel, he called on Representative Guy E. Campbell, of Pittsburgh, who, obtained tomorrow's conference with Secretary Lamont.

Coxey said the unemployment problem was caused by the curtailment of credits over a period of three or four years This, he continued, reduced production with subsequent unemployment.

Coxey said he would propose to Secretary Lamont that non-interest bearing community bonds be issued for public improvements, which, he said would enable the people to have what they need now, and pay for it without interest in 25 years.

Coxey has had such a measure pending before the last two congresses.

What America needs now, says a doctor, is a national law against auto-intoxication.

Wouldn't it be a joke on the bootleggers and beer barons if the dry amendment were repealed?

When a fellow talks about himself locally, we walk out on him. Then he starts writing it in a signed column, and we eat it up.

STRANGERS IN STRANGE LANDS

Miss Nora Burglon, a magazine writer, donned a Swedish peasant costume and set forth to discover how an immigrant is treated in the United States. Some of her discoveries have not been very pleasant.

She has found kindness. She has also found plenty of that gouging which American travelers so deplore in foreign lands. One taxi driver in the metropolis tried to make her pay $1.50 when the motor called for only $ .55. Some hotels and restaurants tried to charge her extra, apparently thinking she did not know the correct charges—as she would not if she were really a bewildered immigrant out recently arrived on our hospitable shores.

She has found also that native Americans stare rudely at her because of her costume and make audible remarks about her. On the other hand, a sympathetic bystander in one city escorted her to the correct street car stop and waited to see her safely on the correct car.

Apparently different nations have good and bad traits in common. The Americans who complain of staring and coldness and gouging abroad are not the only travelers. There are others who speak glowingly of courteous treatment, friendly service, generous assistance, given them by citizens of strange lands.

ANOTHER BIG GAMBLE

It now appears that a promoter by the name of Bob has looted the American pocketbook of about $12,000,000. He did it thru a number of firms financed thru the New York Stock exchange and then disappeared. His exploit is just another indication that those who know the American gambling instinct well can make a fortune any time they really try.

If all the money that is "wild-catted," even in Morgan county, were put to legitimate uses, business would be much better. Capital which is tied up in schemes to double it in a year can hardly be expected to build a business that will serve its owners and the community thruout a generation.

A local speaker remarked sometime ago that the man who deliberately risks his money on something that he knows may fail in order to make some exorbitant profits, "needn't bawl if he gets trimmed." He might, however, breathe a sigh of regret over the money he has pulled out of useful channels where it might have provided shoes, clothing, labor, and honest income for the people who need these things most and can't get them.

No man should be afraid to risk his capital in an honest business which seeks to render dollar for dollar in goods and service. His venture, however, should be based on sound judgment and an intelligent study of the actual needs of such a business as he chooses to undertake. If his investigation proves favorable, he may hope for a reasonable success, but he should never expect too much.

The man who seeks a shower of gold from the mouth of a fairy donkey may get it, but it is ten chances to one that he finds that he and the donkey have changed places and that he himself is showering hard-earned gold upon some unscrupulous promoter.

POLITICAL CHAOS OR COMMON SENSE

A writer for the public press has sought to describe what he terms political chaos in Pennsylvania, caused, he thinks, by the prohibition issue. He hints that wets and drys have stepped across party lines and lined up in a battle royal over the governorship of the eastern state.

This is no time for breaking down party lines on account of a question which was long ago decided by constitutional amendment. The Republican party has announced the principle of law enforcement and on that principle Mr. Hoover made his campaign and won such a victory as had never before been seen in this country. It is hard to believe that the nation has changed its mind in two short years and now desires to abandon enforcement of the law by popular vote.

This is not the fact, and the returns on Nov. 4 will prove it. The Republican party stands for law and order, and thus it has ever stood. That stand has been vindicated by the people more times than there is space here to enumerate. There has been no other platform adopted by the party for the coming election and those who vote for the continuance of the party in power can expect its policy of law enforcement to be carried forward without a hitch. There need be no chaos in politics if the voters will use the same sort of common sense they used at the polls in 1928.

USELESS ARGUMENT ABOUT WOMEN

Gilbert K. Chesterton, now busy stirring up sluggish minds in this country, says women are on the verge of another revolt—this time from having too much liberty. Last time it was from having too little.

Immediately the argument is on. It is an entertaining argument which, like all discussions about women, settles nothing.

No doubt there are women who dislike the "new freedom" now that they have it, and would like to return to Victorian standards; and there are other women who wouldn't let them.

There are always women who want to be taken care of, and probably every woman feels that way at times.

There are always women who want to take care of the rest of the world and probably every woman feels that way at times.

It is an old view, exploited in a famous poem by Chaucer 500 years ago, that what women want most is power—that they want to dominate.

It is just as old a view that women want to be dominated.

Chesterton, or any other fellow, can prove anything he wants to about women. And any clever woman can disprove it.

TOO MUCH OIL

Efforts to limit crude oil production don't seem to have worked very well. Owners of wells keep on producing almost to capacity, and drilling superfluous new wells on their properties, to keep rivals from draining their oil pools. Long storage of the vast quantities produced is difficult. So the oil is refined, mostly to make motor fuel. And so we have a gasoline surplus.

In many states gasoline is said to be selling now near or below the cost of production. There are just two good features about that—consumers enjoy it and it helps to work off the surplus.

Meanwhile we are getting nearer to the time when it will be necessary to tap those oil-bearing shales in Colorado which Ralph S. Kelley, formerly of the Interior department, insists that lot of selfish interests are trying to steal from the government.

ROBERT QUILLEN SAYS

The most dangerous sign of the times, from the standpoint of the conservative and the so-called capitalist, is not the occasional violence of dissatisfied workers but the increasing contempt for religion and religious authorities.

Rebellion against established authority and rebellion against orthodox religion go hand in hand. That is history, repeated again and again.

A new religion is preached by a reformer. He is an enemy of the established religion and he and his followers are outcasts. They are persecuted and thrive on persecution.

In the course of time the new religion makes friends among the great and becomes respectable. That is the beginning of the end. In a little while its high priests are fat conservatives who accept the support of the powerful and pay for it by keeping the people quiet.

Grown fat and prosperous, the religion that began in rebellion now teaches the poor the virtues of humility and submission. It is a useful ally of the ruling powers. And as an ally it must stand or fall.

When rebels begin their work with torch and sword, they slaughter priest along with kings. They are in rebellion against all authority—religious as well as secular.

Russia's present effort to overthrow the established religion is not unique in history. It is a normal part of revolution.

The French revolution was fostered by enemies of the church and its chief defenders were called athiests. The gutters of Paris ran with the blood of those butchered by enemies of religion.

The official religion of America, when Revolution began, required worship of the Trinity. Churchmen were allies of the Government and their word was law.

And the leaders of the Revolution were without exception rebels against the established religion. Such men as Jefferson, Madison, Franklin, Washington, John Adams and Thomas Paine were Unitarians or Deists, accepting Nature's God but denying the Trinity of orthodox religion. They were hated and feared by ecclesiastic authorities as they were by Tories.

When men rebel against the form of government, they rebel against the religion that supports it. And when they begin to mock religion, they are in spiritual rebellion against the rules of their Government, also.

When the people throw stones at the high priests, the king's commands are a waste of breath.

ATOP BUSSES

Visitors who come to New York City and who leave without taking a bus ride along Fifth Avenue, go back to their homes without having seen one of the interesting sights that is of this great metropolis a sight unique.

I have taken this ride hundreds of times, and every time it gives me a thrill and furnishes one with new interests. In the first place, there are the people upon and within the bus—all of them studies. And then, on either side of the street, a stream of human motion! You see thousands of faces, each intent upon something. I always wonder what each face means. Where are those steps taking each person? Why are they there?

And on all sides of these busses are automobiles spread upon the Avenue. Cars representing every purse. In these cars, and on both sides of the streets, you see happy faces and very sad ones. You wonder about the expressions and speculate in your mind about them. All day long—every day—year in, year out, the stream moves on.

If I ever reach London, one of my first experiences shall be a bus ride!

Many use busses merely to get somewhere. Others get to their destination and educate themselves along the way as well. I like to study everyone whom I pass, be that study ever so fleeting. I like to notice expressions, manner of walks, styles of dress in both men and womn, and the little distinctive accessories that make up a personality.

You see people in a hurry. Why are they in a hurry? Why do they not relax as they go along? What burdens some of these people carry about with them everywhere they go! What a book to read were it possible for you to snatch ever so small a fragment of thought from each of these human beings that form one hour of tread upon this great Avenue.

In the words of Walt Mason we are just "weary little pilgrims"—pushing, restless, worried wondering—"just behind us is the cradle, just before us is the tomb."

WHY THEY LEAVE

THE WALKING STICK. By C. E. Scroggins. Bobbs-Merrill Co. 1930. $1.00.

If you have a stray dollar in your pocket that you don't know what to do with, go buy a copy of "The Walking Stick." You will get a good deal more than your money's worth; that is, you will if you are interested in social problems, and have ever wondered just why a good many of our young writers and poets forsake their own country and go to live abroad. When you have finished reading this book you will have a pretty good notion why this is.

Youth is notably conservative; but they find too much standardization stifling. And in some of our American communities, if you do not do exactly as others do, you are decidedly out of it; which is a polite way of saying that you are "not in it." If "variety is the spice of life," why this mania for standardization, this insistence upon conformity? Nature is infinite in variety; she never makes two human beings, nor two flowers, nor two anything, exactly alike. Why, then, should human beings wish to be alike—act like, thin k alike (or rather, avoid thinking at all, alike!), speak alike, dress alike? A sheep is an admirable animal in its way, and for the purpose for which it was presumably created; but as a model of conduct to follow, it has certain drawbacks. Yet we all know individuals who seem to think that so long as they slavishly follow some acknowledged social leader, some standardized formula of community conduct, they therefore cannot possibly "go astray."

Sinclair Lewis called his typical American town Gopher Prairie. The Lynds called theirs Middletown. Mr. Scroggins calls his Mumford. Mumford is strong in Rotary. In Mumford, as in other towns we know, men of all classes (yes, there are classes in free America) slap one another on the back and address one another familiarly by the first name. At a Rotary meeting it would never do to be different. This is not to depreciate the benefits of Rotary, and similar organizations. Any such that make for real friendliness and mutual helpfulness are all to the good. It all depends upon the motive back of it, and the genuineness of the feeling; whether it is merely temporary or a thing of permanence. Mr. Scroggins says that "the first tenet of Rotary is: "He Profits Most Who Serves Best." Somehow, the Biblical way of putting it seems a bit more altruistic, a bit less calculating; but then, women have been told, from time immemorial, that they "don't understand business." Perhaps we don't. Certainly not many of us know the meaning of real fredom—for ourselves or for our community. We are, in the nature of things, conservative.

The quite un-heroic hero of this narrative, or commentary on certain American characteristics of mind and conduct, is one Fred Harper, undersized son of a successful grocer of Mumford who expected, as a matter of course, that "Freddie," when he grew up, would join him in the store. But Fred Harper had no leanings toward the grocery business; or any business, for that matter. He was a misfit in Mumford.

"Fred Harper was nearly grown before he knew he was an alien, a misfit in his environment. As a small boy he never thought of defying the Law of the Herd. He liked being a Boy Scout because he liked the rhythm of marching in step with others, liked to belong to something organized beyond his comprehension. But he wasn't a very good Boy Scout; he was too apt to drift into reveries while Mr. Carmichael, the scoutmaster, was talking—listening to timeless harmonies of wind and water and old sunlight in the trees." Fred Harper "didn't feel abnormal;" but he "had thoughts that wouldn't go into words." "He supposed all small boys had to grow up in Mumford, Indiana, and be taught thrift and industry by Hoosier fathers. He hated working in his father's grocery, but didn't all small boys hate working anywhere? His mother made him take piano lessons, but that didn't make him conspicuous; quite a few boys in Mumford, Indiana, take piano lessons while they are yet too young to offer a really hard-boiled masculine resistance." Freddie grumbled about it on principle, but he didn't really mind. He didn't realize the "shameful truth. He was a born musician." He didn't suspect it himself, even when he began coaching a little girl friend, Annie Worsham—"surreptitiously, of course, for Annie was a girl. He had a proper scorn for girls in general." He found himself playing the piano a good deal. Of course what he played in public—that is, among his young friends—was jazz, which he had to pretend to like. But one night, at a girl friend's house, he drifted into the Prelude in C Sharp Minor. "It was an unfortunate experiment." His set never played "high-brow stuff" unless they had to. "The crowd thought he was showing off." And when the girl friend's mother gazed at him in astonishment and cried soulfully: "Why, Freddie—you're a musician!" he only saved himself by dashing off into the "drunken rhythms of Scorching Lips." That was the kind of town Mumford talent, you mustn't show it if it was. Even if you had exceptional marked you as "different." You must conform.

Fred Harper went through High school; and then went to college, where he found the same craze for conformity. He was recalled from college by the death of his father. Everybody, including his mother, expected him to take charge of the store and carry on in his father's place. All his father's Rotary brothers, and other friends, stood ready to help him. But Fred Harper was not a grocer; he was a musician, albeit, his musical education had been somewhat stunted, like his figure.

Growing more and more dissatisfied with his efforts to run the business, the full realization of his alien position was forced upon him one morning when he picked up a walking stick that had been his father's (but which he had never seen his senior carry) and started off down town carrying it. He met with ridicule on all sides. Serious elderly friends of his father drew him aside and remonstrated with him; assuring him that Mumford would think he was "putting on airs;" that his customers would be offended; that he would lose trade. It finally ended in Fred's persuading his mother to sell the business and in Fred's going off to New York, in the hope that there he could live his own life, without having every items of his conduct prescribed for him. How he fared there, and how his career turned out, or bid fair to turn out, when we part with him, the reader must learn from the book. But let us assure him or her of learning a good deal more besides. Much is to be learned about the foolishness of the American mania for conformity; the dangers, the stultifying effect, of too much standardization. Fred Harper craved Fredom; and he could not find it in Mumford. "Conform! Conform! It was no longer music; it was noise, the noise of the machine." "Why? Why? Men couldn't all be equals. Why shouldn't the strong ones, the ones whose minds had wings, strike out and bring back something for the rest of them? Oh, not in words; Fred Harper didn't think in wgords; he only felt things—flashes. Something invisible, intangible, pressing down; here and there a flish of personality breaking through, instantly stifled, covered with jocularity, reduced to a monotone that fitted everybody."

In New York, Fred Harper was associated professionally with a girl, a talented violinist, who posed as a foreigner and called herself Rosika Yanci; although she was born in the South and had left home because her famly didn't consider it proper, or even decent, for one of the daughters to be a musician. Fred learned much from Rosika; and the time came when the ytwo were booked to give a joint recital in Mumford, among other towns. That return visit to Mumford brought to Fred the realization of many things but dimly grasped before. Could he have accepted the sneers of his fellow-townsmen earlier, he might have saved himself some bitter years. It was "not the law" that the son should follow in his father's footsteps just because the father wished it to be so. "Men were not standard parts of a machine; a son was not a duplicate of his father, but a blend, an unguessed blend of possibilities, unknowable, untried, useless without courage."

While Fred Harper was alive to virtues in his home town of which he had previously been unaware, on his return he marveled anew at the masks that men wear; at their foolish efforts at conformity; at their pathetic fear of being "different" because it would "hurt business." And at th still more pathetic fact being different WOULD hurt business in most small towns! By all means read this little book. It is well worth your attention. Yes, there is a love element, too; quite a refreshing one; and the really moving confessions of a woman who has painfully, and with utmost determination and difficulty, built up a social position for herself and her family, while setting on the road to affluence her easy-going husband, who never have "got on" without her.

It's as Important for Coats as for Players to HOLD THE LINE!

The sports fur coat is an admirable solution to the problem of clothes for the football game because nothing is smarter for business or general wear later on!

Most of the fur coats this year clearly define the new lines of style, some of them slightly fitted, others fitting and flaring.

Among the new sports outfits for football days is an ensemble of long coat, muff and cap of dyed lapin (left) from Bonwit-Teller, New York. It is a rich vanilla brown in color, has a high-waisted belt line and a ruffled collar that can be worn closed like a turn-down collar on a smart blouse. The cap has a beret line and the muff is a little bit of vanity that does its bit toward hand-warming.

For the dignified little lady who looks her elegant best in gray, a kid caracul coat (right) from the same house, lined with smart green kasha, is fine. It fits the waistline, is not belted but flares to a three-quarters length. It is excellent for wear over tweed or jersey frocks.

New York, Oct. 21—(AP)—The Elbert G. Spencers were married in Springfield, Ill., June 20, since then, Mrs. Spencer avers in her bill for separation today, her husband has struck her so often she has ceased to keep count.

In explanation, Spencer declares he fought only in self defense and then it was a tough tussle. The throwing about of his clothing was another vexing thing, he said.

Last April, he stated, he was leaving his apartment "to avoid what I thought might be an unfortunate quarrel," but his wife, Lavinia, prevented his departure by throwing all his clothes from the window of their tenth floor apartment.

Mrs. Spencer was allowed $75 a week temporary allimony and $750 counsel fees by Supreme Court Justice Glennon.

REVEAL MARRIAGE OF BARONET TO U. S. WIDOW

BIG CAMERAS ARE TRAINED ON SUN ON SOUTHERN ISLE

Niuafou Island, Oct. 22.—(Wednesday)—(AP)—A battery of gigantic cameras and scores of other scientific instruments were brought into action here today as observers from the United States and New Zealand sought to record the secrets of the sun during an eclipse.

Hopes for a clear sky at the moment of obscuration were uppermost in the scientific minds. Preliminary forecasts indicated a fair chance for clear weather. The two scientific expeditions here have worked for months preparing to chronicle the phenomenon, which will last but 93 seconds. The eclipse will begin at 9:09 a. m. local time (1:09 p. m., P.S.T.)

A 65-foot and a 63-foot camera were especially constructed and erected here with the aid of Commander C. H. J. Keppwer, head of the United States naval observatory expedition.

Clear weather would permit the scientists to check up on many scientific theories and to study the structure of the sun's corona and chromosphere, which are observable from the earth during an eclipse.

WEYLER IS BURIED WITH SIMPLE RITE IN SPANISH CITY

Madrid, Oct. 21.—(AP)—In a simple wooden casket, borne by a hired hearse, the body of Captain-General Valeriano Weyler, whose Cuban administration revolution thirty years ago was one of the causes of the Spanish-American war, was taken today to its grave in San Lorenzo cemetery, through a heavy downpour. There was only one carriage, containing relatives, in the funeral procession.

The burial ceremony at the Weyler home had been performed two hours earlier than scheduled to escape the gaze of crowds.

Among the many notables passing the coffin was General Alberto Borbon, who is Duke of Santa Elena and a cousin of the king. He leaned reverently over the cast, kissed Weyler upon the forehead and toptoed away in tears.

A plain hearse and one automobile carrying the general's relatives formed the funeral procession.

STREET CARS ARE PASSING, EAGAN TELLS ALTON MEN

Alton, Ill., Oct. 21—(AP)—Asserting that the street car business is dying Louis H. Eagan, president of the Union Electric Light& Power Co., St. Louis, has told the Alton city council that his company does not desire a new franchise for the Alton railway company, owned by the Union Electric.

Eagan, speaking before the council last night, said that due to the competition of the automobile it was anticipated the Alton Street Car company would pass out of existence in a few years.

The street car company has been losing about 100,000 revenue passengers a year, he said, explaning it carries about 2,500,000 revenue passengers a year and operates 25 cars over 20 miles of track. It has no bus competition.

SOVIETS WARN AMERICA OF IMPENDING BILLS

Moscow, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The newspapers Isvestia and Pravda, in leading editorials, today voice threats of economic retaliation by the Soviet government against countries which may pass laws prohibiting import of cheap Russian goods. The editorials are inspired by the decision of the council of people's commissars to reduce to a minimum purchases in any country which "places obstructions to Soviet imports."

While the editorials and the commissars decision do not mention the United States, there is said to be little doubt that the warning is intended primarily for America.

WAR VET GIVEN 14 YEAR TERM FOR SLAYING

Ottawa, Ill., Oct. 21—(AP)—William Bender, 45, World War veteran, today was sentenced to serve 14 years in the Joliet penitentiary when he pleaded guilty to the murder of his common law wife, Mrs. Maggie Bartskua.

Bender said he killed Mrs. Bartskua when he pushed her against a stove during a quarrel over his drinking. He said he carried the body to the Illinois Michigan canal and threw it in the water. It was found there with the skull fractured, several weeks later.

TESTS SHOW WAY TO GET DESIRED EARLY GLADIOLI

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 21.—Early flowering of gladioli, a much-sought result in the commercial growing of this flower under glass, can be brought about both by the use of artificial light and certain chemicals, but as yet neither of these practices can be recommended for regular commercial use, according to experiments conducted over a period of several years by the division of floriculture of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. Results of the experiments are reported in a new bulletin entitled "Experiments in Forcing Gladioli," which has just been published by the institution. F. F. Weinard, associate chief in floricultural physiology, and S. W. Decker, associate in floricultural physiology, and S. W. Decker, associate in floriculture, are authors of the new bulletin.

Gladioli are being grown under glass for cut-flowers in increasing numbers. Generally the corms are planted in January or early in February and flower in May. Although there is a demand for the flowers earlier in the season, early planting has not proved profitable on a commercial scale because of the large proporton of "blind" plants on which flowers fail to develop. Apparently the corms must undergo a certain period of dormacy, or rest, before they can be grown successfully with ordinary methods. In the Illinois experiments chemicals and artificial light were tried for the purpose of breaking the rest period and for stimulatng growth. The experments also were designed to determine the importance of certain factors, including previous use and size of corms, temperature of storage and time of planting upon the flower production.

Results of the experiments with artificial lights suggested that the short days of winter are responsible for the slow growth and the high percentage of "blind" shoots normally found in winter plantings. However, the use of artificial lights can not at present be recommended for commercial plantings because of the cost.

It was found that corms could be forced into early growth with certain chemicals such as ethlene dichlorid or ethylene chlor-hydrin. Such treatments are not yet standardized, however, and may be ineffective or injurious, the investigators reported.

ZIONIST JEWRY PROTESTS MOVE OF ENGLISHMEN

London, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Zionist Jewry the world over today voiced protests at conditions in the new statement of British policy in Palestine which they consider will impede their purpose of making the Holy Land a national home for Jews.

Dr. Chaim Weizmann, resigning his positions of president of the World Zionist organization and the Jewish agency to emphasize his opposition to the policy, intimated that because of its inauguraton it might be necessary to transfer the seat of Zionist activity from London to the United States.

He called a meeting of the political commission of the Zionist organization in London for November 3 to discuss the entire matter, and a mass meeting of Jews will be held Monday night at the Pavilion theatre in White Chapel.

Handful Of Great Football Squads Remain Undefeated Notre Dame Heads The List

By Ted Vosburgh
Associated Press Sports Writer

New York, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Several of the great football teams that went through last season without defeat have fallen already in the course of a strenuous campaign, but a handful headed by Notre Dame go marching on as though possessed of charmed lives.

Several leading colleges have not lost a game in more than a year—Notre Dame, Utah, Western Maryland, Duquesne, Ohio university, Texas Christian and Fordham. In fact, the first three named have not been so much as tied.

Virtually all of these seven are scheduled to defend their records against formidable foes this Saturday. Notre Dame plays Pittsburgh, Utah meets Denver, Duquesne opposes Catholic university in a Friday night [illegible] and Fordham comes to grips with its metropolitan rival, New York university, in a game that has the big town stirred up.

Somewhat easier assignments are anticipated by Western Maryland in meeting Loyola of Baltimore and by Ohio and Texas Christian in playing Miami and Texas Tech, respectively.

Knute Rockne's men will carry a string of 12 straight victories into battle with Pittsburgh's powerful eleven at the Pitt stadium this Saturday. Not since Southern California tossed them for a 27-14 loss in the final game of the drab 1928 campaign have the Irish been beaten or held to a draw.

Utah, the king pin of the Rocky Mountain conference, was last beaten by Creighton in 1927 although tied by Brigham Young and Creighton in 1928.

Under the expert coaching of Dick Harlow, former mentor of Colgate and Penn State, little Western Maryland, one of the smallest schools in the east, has won 16 straight games since it was tied by Gettysburg in 1928. Included in this sweep were two victories over Georgetown and one over Maryland.

Fordham was tied twice last year and Duquesne once but otherwise they have carried all before them. A tie last season and a scoreless game with Simmons a few days ago are the only breaks in Texas Christian's victorious progress. Ohio, after going through last season unbeaten and untied, was held to a draw on Oct. 11 by West Liberty.

Among the football elect of last year who have fallen before the present season has passed the halfway point are Tennessee, which suffered its first defeat in 34 games since 1926 at the hands of Alabama Saturday; Southern Methodist, which fell before Notre Dame in a thrilling game; Tulane, a victim of Northwestern's powerful attack and St. Mary's, turned back by California by a single point.

JERSEYVILLE TO PLAY NIGHT GAMES

Third School in Illinois Valley Conference Adopts Night Grid Schedule —Open With White Hall Friday.

Jerseyville, Oct. 21. — (Special) — Jerseyville Friday will become the third school in the Illinois Valley conference to begin playing night football, Coach W. J. Cramer having scheduled the annual combat with White Hall to be played Friday night beginning at 7:45. Installation of the lights has been in progress for the past week, and the first gleams are expected to shoot out of the projectors on Wednesday night.

The Jerseyville installation is the same as that in use at Greenfield and Pittsfield, consisting of batteries of four projectors placed on ten poles fifty feet above the field of play. Five poles have been erected on each side of the field, but delay in receiving the projectors has held up completion of the plant. The projectors have arrived and will be installed before nightfall Wednesday.

The Jerseyville team, which at present is in second place in the Illinois Valley league, has added Waverly to its schedule for a game on Nov. 7. The Waverly team at present is leading in the M. S. M. league.

Jerseyville is working hard this week to break the jinx of inaugural combats, hoping to overcome the White Hall team and initiate its new plant successfully.

HARMON SLIPS NEW PLAYS TO BLUEBOYS

Siwash Will Have to Watch Everything from Power Plays to Light Fantastic Speeding if They Want to Spoil Homecoming.

Old Siwash is going to have to watch everything from plain and unadulterated football to plays designed for terpischorean experts if they want to spoil Illinois college's annual homecoming this Saturday night. It became evident last night when Coach Harmon worked out his combination of squads. The veteran coach slipped a few aces up the sleeves of the Blueboys, sent them into a scrimmage for a short time to show the squads how the plays should work and then began polishing off the rough spots.

Also, whatever the Siwash scouts observed about the Blueboys probably will be of little use as far as preparing a defense is concerned, because events of the yesterday indicated that an entirely new line-up may be presented when the team trots out before the old grads.

For instance, Don Miller, a chuky youngster from Little Egypt, probably will be in the backfield as fullback in place of "Blitz" Overbeay, who was injured last Friday night. Miller became eligible last night and immediately joined the second team backfield, which may have been the first team backfield. Overbeay has not reported as yet.

Hopper, a youngster from California, who looked powerfully good in the final scrimmage before the Northern Teachers game, has replaced MacLean as a halfback, giving the Blueboys threats around both ends and MacLean has gone to an end in place of Hunter. Pearce, who played fullback in the Northern Teachers game, may be an end for the Siwash battle, the Johnston City youth having played that position in high school. He was shifted out to a second team end post last night during the scrimmage, with Noll on the other end. Steen and Kurtz were in first team tackle positions, with Rammelkamp and Scott at guards. Gerlach was at center.

But there was no way of telling who was going to take the field first against the Siwash last night. Coach Harmon had his veteran pair of guards, Zimmerman and Meeker, on the second string, along with Roosa, a freshman tackle and Egediteh, a scrapping fullback. Colin didn't get into the practice because of a slight injury which brought about the need for a short rest, but will be available for the homecoming fray.

Spirit at the Blueboy camp is about at the highest pitch it has been all season, for they consider their close game with the Northern Teachers as the turning point of the season. Heretofore they have been matched against undefeated teams, but since Knox has taken one jolt on the chin, they believe they have the power to slip over another knock-out blow before the large crowd of homecomers.

A stiff scrimage is planned for tonight when the teams will cut loose with all of their tricks and power.

MATCH QUINTERO

Salt Lake City, Utah, Oct. 21—(AP)—Manuel Quintero, Tampa, Fla., flash, will meet Tommy Freeman, welterweight champion, in a non-title bout at New Orleans the latter part of December, George Braun, Quintero's manager, said here today.

Braun said he has completed negotiations with Martin Burke, New Orleans promoter, for the bout.

Midwest Football Briefs

Madson, Wis., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Wisconsin started its drill for the Purdue game in earnest today, the varsity engaging the freshmen in a hard hour's scrimmage. The Badgers started to mass their power plays with a passing attack and looked strong. They also drilled in defense and stopped Purdue plays although the freshman gave a poor imigation of the Boilermakers.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Coach Bob Zuppke gave his Illinois football team its first good look at Michigan plays today as the freshman eleven employed the Wolverine's tactics in a long scrimmage. Zuppke revamped his backfield, using Berry at quarterback, Yanuskus and Russell at half, and Captain Robinson at fullback. They scored a touchdown against the yearlings and stopped them cold on defense. Tackling, one of the big weaknesses of the Northwestern game, was stressed by Zuppke today.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Roderick Cox, Michigan's right end, may be lost for Saturday's battle against Illinois. Cox suffered a bruise above his knee in the Ohio game and was barely able to walk today. As a result, Coach Harry Kipke shifted Stanley Hozer from guard to end in a dummy scrimmage held in the field house because of the cold weather. Norman Daniels, regular Michigan end who was injured in the Purdue game, may offset Cox's loss. He may get back into the game Saturday.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Dissatisfied with the center of his line, Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg of Chicago today sent his regular center, Andy Brislen, to guard and sent Keith Parsons to center. Edward Stackler, promising sophomore fullback, hurt in the Ripon game, returned to the camp today. The Maroons had a good scrimmage on Mississippi plays but even Coach Stagg admitted his unfamiliarity with the strategies of 'Old Miss.

Evanston, Ill., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Another "bear" story cropped out of Northwestern's big football camp today. As an aftermath of the wholesale vaccinations because of the small pox epidemic threat, two tackles, Bob Gonya and Tiny Engerbritsen, were sent to the informary suffering from the effects of vaccine. Two substitute backs, Willy Lewis and Harry Prichard, also suffered and were missing from a light drill on Centre plays.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Minnesota drilled lightly on offense today with Coach Crisler alternating two sets of backfields with the same line in a dummy scrimmage. Lloyd Stein was returned to the first string center berth after an absence because of a leg infection.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Football sailed all over Indiana's training ground today as Coach Pat Page drilled his Hoosiers on Southern Methodist's famed aerial attack. The Hoosiers were encouraged somewhat by the return of several players, who have been missing because of injuries.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Notre Dame, all steamed up because of its victory over Carnegie Teach last week, started its drille for the Pittsburgh Panthers today with a great display of confidence and enthusiasm.

The regulars on Knute Rockne's big football machine watched the Panther plays in a shadow scrimmage while the third and fourth teams engaged the reserves, equipped with Pittsburgh plays, in a lively scrimmage. Results of the scrimmage were not so encouraging, however, as the "Panthers" swept through for long gains.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Purdue's hopes of stopping Wisconsin were bolstered today by the return of Paul Moss, sophomore end, who has been out of the game with injuries, the backfield problem still worried Coach Noble Kizer, with Yunevich missing at the fullback post and Purvis, halfback, ailing with a charlie horse, Coach Kizer faced a task of constructing a ground gaining combination.

Columbus, O., Oct. 21.—(AP)—It was a gloomy Ohio State squad that returned to drill today. The morale was low because of two successive Big Ten defeats but Coach Sam Willaman started work cheerfully by ironing out weaknesses in the two week drill for Wisconsin.

Iowa City, Iowa, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Scrimmage promised to the University of Iowa varsity football team for today was limited to half an hour, with the regulars playing a defensive role against a freshman passing attack.

The Iowa squad was intact today following minor injuries received in the Purdue game, with the exception of George Roegge. Roegge will not be in uniform until late this week as the result of a leg injury, and is not expected to be in scrimmage before next Monday.

BRINGS TEAM HERE

JACKSON TO HEAD COACH

Above is Coach Earl Jackson, athletic director of Knox college, Galesburg, who will bring his squad of gridiron warriors here Friday for the Illinois college homecoming game on Saturday night.

Coach Jackson this year has returned from a year at Leland Stanford, where he studied under Coach "Pop" Warner for one year, which means that when the Blueboys and Knox tangle, various offshoots of the Warner systems will be opposed, for Coaches Harmon and Saunders are using the double wing-back system perfected by Warner.

Coach Jackson will bring his team to Jacksonville for a light workout under the lights on Friday night because this is the first game for Siwash under artificial illumination.

Many years of rivalry are back of the Harmon and Jackson conquests, for the Siwash mentor is a serious rival to Coach Harmon's tital of the best track coach in the Little 19. Jackson's teams have returned the Little 19 track title to Galesburg almost as many times as Coach Harmon has brought the coveted trophy and the official trophy awarded in the conference, back to Jacksonville.

Coach Harmon will have the added advantage of having a former Knox coach assist him in preparing for the battle, for Coach Saunders put in one year developing the Knox athletes, several years ago.

EDDIE CASEY MAY COACH HARVARD

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Unofficial reports that Arnold Horween would be succeeded by Eddie Casey as coach of the Harvard university football team at the end of the current season were described today as "premature" by Director of Athletics William J. Bingham.

"I am not certain," Bingham said, "whether or not Horween is willing to return next fall and nothing will be done about the matter until after next month's Yale game."

Casey, now Horween's backfield coach, said he has not been offered the position and he did not expect the subject would be broached until the season ended; then only after Horween had declined an invitation to continue as head coach for another year.

When Horween agreed to retain command of Harvard football through the 1930 season, he said he could spare but one more year away from his Chicago business interests. It is understood Bingham will make a strong effort to make him reconsider.

DO-X TO TAKE LONG TRIP THIS WEEK-END

Altenrhein, Germany, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The Do-X, the world's largest heavier-than-air flying machine is expected, during the coming week end, to start on its first long distance flight preparatory to a voyage to America scheduled for about Nov. 5 from Lisbon.

Present plans indicate the Do-X will make the trip from Altenrhein to Amsterdam without passengers because of having to fly over the mountainous Black Forest.

Special Convocation of Jacksonville Chapter No. 3 R. A. M. Tonight at 7 o'clock. WORK. A. J. Donovan, E. H. P. John R. Phillips, Secretary

FAN BREEZES

by Ernest Savage

Illini fans are belittling Northwestern's victory over Zuppke's eleven last Saturday by comparing the first downs made by the two teams. Illinois made eleven first downs to nine for Northwestern, but Northwestern scored six touchdowns and the Illini none.

—o—

As yet the rule makers have not awarded points for first downs, and until they do, little can be said about first downs. The really important down is the one on which a touchdown is scored.

—o—

And anyway, none of the Illini made 97 yard runs for touchdowns. The Wildcats did, and didn't even get credit for a first down.

—o—

But the big thing this week is the Illinois-Knox battle out on the College's hardening gridiron. Things seem to be happening rapidly out there this week, and their department of public relations has fallen behind.

—o—

A peculiar story is going the rounds at the hilltop. It has to do with a couple of boys from Southern Illinois who took part in last week's game with Northern Teachers, or who would have taken part. "Dopy" Woods, a youngster who was hailed as one of the best bets in the freshman class is involved. Woods had been off the squad for about ten days because of high blood pressure, which a second physical examination disclosed had cleared up. Woods became eligible just before the Teacher game, and was told to crawl into moleskins that night.

—o—

He reported for the game, sat thru three quarters on the bench, and then suddenly disappeared. Coach Harmon, in casting about for reserves to send into the game in an attempt to pull it out of the fire in the last few minutes, couldn't find Woods any place. After the game he found the youngster in the dressing room. Woods said it was too cold out on the field and he didn't think he would be needed, and he changed to civies again. Saturday he went home and has not been seen on the campus since.

—o—

When he went home he must have taken along with him one of the boys who started in the game against the Teachers, for Mills, a guard, has not been found since the game.

—o—

But in the process of hunting for Woods, Coach Harmon's eyes lit on Hopper, a boy from California. Hopper was sent into the game, caught the kick off, and raced it back to the Blueboy 46 yard line where he was pulled down by the second and last man between him and the goal.

—o—

And today Hopper is being talked about as one of the boys who will start against Siwash Saturday night. The California lad looked good in one scrimmage this year, but developed a pair of sore feet. He has been outfitted with new shoes now, and may get a chance.

—o—

Jerseyville has joined the list of Illinois Valley teams now playing night football. Coach W. J. Cramer, who has been making football history at Jerseyville this year, said last night his team was one of the fightingest outfits he has ever had, but that it lacks good football experience.

—o—

The Jerseyville team is powerful, but susceptible. However, in another year or two, it will make its full strength felt around the circuit.

—o—

Roodhouse thus far this season has proven to be the most powerful team in the conference, scoring 33 points and being scored upon only once. Jerseyville is second in this classification, with 28 points scored, but has allowed opponents to score 20.

—o—

Greenfield, Routt's opponent this Friday night, has scored a total of 27 points, and has allowed 25 points to go down in the books for opponents. Jerseyville and Greenfield are in a percentage tie for second place.

—o—

Pittsfield and Winchester, the two cellar teams, have allowed opponents to scoret 28 and 27 points agains them, respectively, while getting a total of 7 and 6 points.

Evanston, Ill., Oct. 21.—(AP)—The telephone rang at the police station yesterday.

"None better on the north shore, lady," Ted Peterson, the police operator replied.

"That's good. Some of my relatives want to move in immediately.

"Just so the heat is good; and how is the wall paper, please?"

"Bars on three sides is the pattern," said the operator.

"What's that? Isn't this the renting office?"

Ranking Committee Of The U.S.L.T.A. Faces Problem Of Making 1930 Rankings

New York, Oct. 21.—(AP)—The problem of making up the American tennis ranking list for 1930, with the scrambled results of the season's tournament play to work on, has prompted the ranking committee of the United States Lawn Tennis association to start its work weeks earlier than usual.

The task has not been lessened by a change in the chairmanship of the ranking committee, placing the responsibility upon Dr. Philip B. Hawks, who already is chairman of the men's national championship committee of the U. S. L. T. A. and chairman of the tournament's committee of the West Side club, Forest Hills. The former chairman of the ranking committee, William M. Fischer, resigned in midsummer upon taking up tennis instruction.

For the first time since his suspension nearly pushed him from the top of the list a few years ago, Big Bill Tilden is in danger of being deposed from the No. 1 position he has occupied for ten successive years. Taking into consideration his play abroad, where he won the Wimbledon crown and scored America's only Davis cup triumph, Tilden well might be kept at the top but he slumped on the home courts, losing to Frank Shields at Southampton, defulaint to Cliff Sutter at Rye and losing to Johnny Doeg, the new national champion, in the semi-finals of the national championship.

On the other hand, the inconsistency among younger rivals of Big Bill mitigated against the selection of any one of them to displace him.

Doeg, by winning the national doubles with George Lott and then sweeping through the national championship field, defeating Tilden and Shields in the semi-finals and finals, compiled the most impressive record at home.

Wilmer Allison defeated Henri Cochet and Doeg at Wimbledon but lost to Sidney Wood at Southampton and to Shields at Forest Hills. Wood beat Shields at Southampton but lost to the latter in the nationals.

Other rising young stars who will be candidates at least for positions well up in the "first ten" include Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena, sensational of the early tournament season; and Clifford Sutter of Tulane, the new intercollegiate titleholder.

OVERCONFIDENCE, HURTS STOP KNOX

Coach Jackson Is Drilling Team Hard After Loss to Augies—Will Have Three Cripples Ready for Blueboys.

Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 21—(Special)—A week of the hardest drills of the year looms for the Knox football squad in preparation for the night homecoming game at Jacksonville Saturday with Illinois college. The blocking and tackling departments especially are coming in for extra work, as a result of the showing last week when Knox, state champions last year, lost to Augustant 13 to 6 after winning the first two games of the present season.

Overconfidence following their 25 to 0 win over Augie last year, plus injuries that kept two backfield aces and the team's captain on the sidelines, had considerable to do with the defeat at the hands of the Rock Island team.

Bellinger of Alexis, halfback, who has not been action due to an injury in a scrimmage early in the season, will be in shape to play against Illinois college. Frank Thompson of Galesburg, star of the Lombard freshman outfit last year, is now eligible and will greatly strengthen the ball carrying department. Nichols of Webster City, Ia., has an injured leg but wil probably see action during part of the game at least. Babcock of Carman, who was heralded as the most powerful fullback at the Knox camp in years, will not be able to play, due to hurts received in the Lake Forest game.

The game will mark the first time a Knox team has ever played under the floodlights. To accustom the players to the novelty, Coach Earl Jackson will take the squad to Jacksonville Friday for a light practice the night before the contest.

Western Teachers and Lake Forest are the teams that have bowed to the Siwash attack this year, the former by a 15 to 0 score and the latter 20 to 0. The defeat at the hands of Augustana came as a surprise and it will be a rebuilt and more powerful eleven that will face Illinois.

ROSENBLOOM TO FIGHT BAIN

New York, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Maxie Rosenbloom, ring clown, Broadway playboy and light heavyweight champion, will step around the corner from his favorite thoroughfare into Madison Square Garden tomorrow night to battle fifteen rounds with an almost unknown title challenger, Abie Bain, of Newark, N. J.

Searching through the records, the experts are nicknaming Abie "Where-Have-You Bain," for the Newark youngster never has appeared in a main bout before in the garden or in other leading fistic centers.

Rosenbloom has had trouble finding suitable title opposition in a class that has gone slightly to seed. A short time ago he toured the country in a series of non-title appearances. He has failed so far to convince the New York State Athletic commission that he should be permitted to fight out of his class because of the shortage of suitable light heavyweight opponents.

LEPROSY DRUG IS BEING PRODUCED SYNTHETICALLY

Chicago, Oct. 21—(AP)—Through experiments in the development of the synthetic derivatives of chaulmoogra oil, University of Illinois research workers hope to make possible quantity manufacture of a product of great value in leprosy treatment, President Harry W. Chase of the university said in an address before the Illinois Manufacturers Association today.

The synthetic derivatives are now being tested clinically for their therapeutic value in treating lepers, Dr. Chase said. Chaulmoogra oil is scarce, but the synthetic product, if proved of medical worth, could be produced in larger quantities than the natural drug.

The toxic properties which made the vegetable product difficult of use in treating leprosy are eliminated in the synthetic preparation, he said, in offering it as an example of the contribution to progress which the university is making.

CHICAGO DENIED RIGHT TO FIGHT GAS TAX SUITS

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 21—(AP)—The city of Chicago today was denied the right to intervene in the suit brought in the supreme court by the state department of finance to collect $69,872 from the Deep Rock Oil company.

State officials contend that the money is due in gasoline tax for motor fuel sold by the company to the city of Chicago. Both the company and the city urge that the tax cannot be collected on motor fuel sold to other governmental bodies.

Attorneys for the city of Chicago pointed out that in case of an adverse ruling the city rather than the gas company would have to pay the tax.

In denying the city right to intervene, the supreme court said that it will be permitted to appear and defend the action but not technically as part of the suit.

TWO WORKMEN ON HIGHWAY KILLED BY SAND SLIDE

Both Bodies Recovered By Rescue Parties After Speedy Digging

Concord, N. H. Oct. 21—(AP)—Albino Pinto, 31, of Ludlow, Mass., and Thomas Hayes, 38, of Pittsfield, N. H., were buried alive here today in a 100-foot sand slide on the New Concord-Dover highway, both bodies were recovered.

Mario Pia, steam shovel operator, was also buried, but managed to dig himself to safety. The men were employed by a Hartford, Conn., construction company, building the road.

Pinto's body was recovered shortly after the accident but rescue parties did not find Hayes' body for several hours.

An emergency call brought large forces of police and firemen from Concord, as well as railroad workers and laborers from the state highway department. Before Hayes' body was found several hundred men had worked in relays to locate it. Powerful searchlights were sent to the operator of a steam shovel, had scene when night fell.

The police were told that Pia, trouble with the machine and Pinto, a foreman, and Hayes went into the deep cut to help. Then suddenly hundreds of tons of sand broke loose from the hill above them and buried them. Pia, struck by a timber and partially stunned, retained presence of mind to fight his way to the open air.

Several minutes later Pinto's body was found.

Numerous smaller cave-ins endangered would-be rescuers.

NEW YORK BROKER IS CHARGED WITH HUGE SWINDLE

Wealthy Woman Claims She Lost $111,000 Through Stock Pool

New York, Oct. 21.—(AP)—A wealthy, middle aged woman carrying $100,000 in currency in a black bag, a suave young man and three bulky gentlemen met in Grand Central Terminal today. When the meeting was over the young man was under arrest on a charge of having swindled the woman out of $111,000.

The woman, Miss Mary Hotchkiss of Hartford, Conn., told the bureau of securities she had invested that sum in a so-called stock pool from which she hoped to realize $1,666,000. The prisoner was Walter Miller, head of the firm of Miller & Co., and known to Miss Hotchkiss as "Mr. Ball". The bulky gentlemen were detectives.

Miss Hotchkiss said she became acquainted with "Ball" when he exchanged his securities for some other stock she held. Thereafter, she met him several times in Grand Central Terminal, she said, giving him $111,000 in all and receiving securities of unknown value.

Two weeks ago, she declared, "Ball" took her to Philadelphia where she was shown investment checks for $60,000,000 and assured that the scheme would return her a large profit. But Ball phoned her yesterday and told her she must furnish $100,000 to save her money, she said. She notified the bureau and officials planned the meeting and the subsequent arriset.

Miller was released on bail on a charge of grand larceny and will have a hearing Thursday.

PHOTOGRAPHS OF TOTAL ECLIPSE ARE SUCCESSFUL

American Astronomers Report That Eclipse and the Weather Excellent

Niuafou Island, Oct. 22.—(Wednesday)—(AP)—Weeks of patient waiting and construction by American astronomers on this little island in the South Pacific were rewarded today when 41 photographs of a total eclipse of the sun were taken successfully.

The eclipse and weather were excellent.

The eclipse began at 7:55 a. m. (2:38 p. m., Tuesday E. S. T.) became total at 9:09 a. m. (3:51 p. m., Tuesday E. S. T.) and ended at 10:31 a. m. (5:14 p. m., Tuesday E. S. T.). Duration of the total eclipse was 93½ seconds.

The New Zealand expedition announced its observations of the eclipse also were entirely successful.

The New Zealand expedition confined itself principally to spectographic work while the American expedition's work ranged from coronal photography with cameras of various sizes to spectographic and photometric observations.

This island, commonly known as "Tin Can Island" because the monthly mail is delivered to its inhabitants in sealed tin cans dropped overboard by passing steamers, was one of the two land spots in the world where the spectacle was visible.

No observations of the eclipse were made from the other spot, Nurakita, another lonely South Pacific Isle.

100 KILLED BY EXPLOSION IN GERMAN MINE

Apparently there were three explosions. The first, a gas blast, caused the dynamite stored in one of the shafts to explode. The great force of this upheaval blew up gasoline tanks in a building on the surface and the administration building also collapsed, this latter inflicting a score of casualties.

Mine officials said part of the difficulty in estimating the casualties lay in the fact that many of the 666 miners who went down on the day shift escaped safely but were so frightened they did not check out with the company.

The 150 imprisoned men are at a depth of 1550 feet and ceaseless efforts are being made to reach them. Damaged ventilation and pumping machinery has been repaired to facilitate the work.

When the blast occurred the first thought of the conutryside was an earthquake, with panic stricken country folk for miles around fleeting into the open.

This was the second large German mine disaster within four months, the previous one being at Neurode, Silesia, with a death roll of more than 150.

Experts said the cause of today's explosion could not be stated with certainty until a complete investigation had been made. Rescue work was hindered today by the fact that the explosion made the main entrance of the mine impassable. This made it necessary that victims be carried to shafts of the Maria mine, several miles distant, by an underground route.

EXPLOSION ON AIRSHIP HURTS CREW MEMBERS

Dirigible's Engine and Gondola are Damaged by the Blast

Toms River, N. J., Oct. 21.—(AP)—An explosion on Captain Anton Heinen's baby zeppelin "Air Yacht" today hurled three men 40 feet to the ground and wrecked the dirigible's engine and gondola.

The airship, recently completed by the widely known designer and pilot of dirigibles, was tied to a temporary mooring mast in preparation for a flight when the explosion occurred. Two members of the crew and a man who was going for a ride were seriously lacerated and bruised by the fall.

The gas bag was undamaged, however, and few hours after the accident, Captain Heinen deflated it for transportation to the Heinen Air Yacht corporation's hangar at Cape May. Officials of the company said repairs would be completed soon.

Captain Heinen himself refused any comment on the explosion. He received wide recognition as an expert pilot when he guided the dirigible Los Angeles across the ocean from its builders in Germany for delivery to the United States navy, and later when he brought the Shenandoah back to her mooring mast at Lakehurst after a storm tore her from her moorings.

For many years a believer in the practicability of lighter-than-air craft Captain Heinen perfected his air yacht with the idea that it might soon be used as widely as motor or sailing yachts.

The tiny dirigible, about 150 feet long, was given its first trial flight by the inventor, with his wife and daughter aboard, about a month ago.

First reports were that the accident was caused by an explosion of a compressed air tank aboard the airship, but the Heinen Air Yacht corporation issued a statement tonight saying it was a cylinder of the engine which exploded.

BROTHERHOODS WILL ASK FOR SIX HOUR DAY

In addition to the unemployment and shorter day questions, other matters of interest to railroad employes and the industry as a whole will be taken up, Robertson said.

Washington, Oct. 21.—(AP)—National officers of the four railroad brotherhoods stationed in Washington were without official notice tonight of the action of their organizations, announced at Cleveland, calling a conference on unemployment and the shorter work day to be held in Chicago November 12, but indicated they had been given cause to expect the step.

No communication has been sent to any government official in the matter as yet. However, those persons with experience in the field pointed out that the procedure now undertaken by the railroad unions was exactly identical with that resorted to in 1916, which finally culminated in the installation of an eight hour day in train service instead of ten hour day but only after President Wilson had procured the passage of the Adams act.

Union records made available in connection with the call today disclosed that the demand for a six-hour day had been under discussion for a considerable time among union members. Under the standard system of operation applying to railroads, the recent recession in volume of business has resulted in laying off younger men in the organization first and the extent of the result of unemployment has increased the opinion that the general shortening of work time would reduce the losses for train service workers.

The woman registered at the place a week ago under the name of Mrs. Mary Johnson. She was about 23 years old.

MORAN TAKEN BY CHICAGO POLICE

Then he was brought to Chicago on one of the "public enemy" vagrancy warrants issued several weeks ago for major gangsters. Put through the identification bureau and kept carefully from the view of reporters and others, he was taken into the chief of detectives office and questioned.

"What he told police and Chief Investigator Patrick Roche was valueless, as it is usually is in the case of questioned gangsters.

"Well, tell us the story of your life," Detective Chief Norton started.

"I can get $15,000 for that story," Moran grumbled. "Why should I tell it to you for nothing?"

And that is about all the information authorities got. Roche said he learned nothing of value in his questioning. While the gangster was in custody, however, a telegram was received from L. G. Jernigan of the state's attorney's office at Grand Forks, N. D., that read "we have information that Moran is trying to organize liquor running through Grand Forks and suggest that the matter be investigated."

Moran did deny to reporters that he had ever negotiated with Al Capone for peace.

"I never negotiated for peace with Al Capone," he declared. "I never made peace in my life with anybody who fought me. Al is living his life and I'm living mine. Capone's running Cook county. Let him run it. I'm out of the rackets.

"I'm a lover of outdoor sports. I'm a reputable business man with no interest in rackets. I've taken a rap for things all over the country—beer rustling in Los Angeles—bank robberies some place else, I'd be the busiest guy in the world if half of those raps were on the up and up."

"They can't make a vagrant out of an active business man," Moran said. "I am vice president of the General Cleaners and Dyers, and actively connected with the business."

Out of Racket

It has been generally agreed for some time that Moran is no longer in active control of what was known as the "North Side Mob." Police believe he was driven out by the extensive Capone organiaztion, his hold on the North Side beer trade being further lessened by the Valentine's Day massacre and the slaying of Zuta, the "brains" of his gang.

Moran, however, had another story. "I have been out of the booze business and all other rackets for four years," he said. "I have been going straight and I intend to go straight."

"When Lingle and Zuta were killed I was up in the middle of Canada on a hunting trip. I'm going on another when I get out of this mess. I make $20 a year from my interest in the Central Cleaners and I don't want anything to do with the rackets."

District Attorney Herman Salen of Waukesha, Wis., was in Chicago today seeking the custody of Danny Stanton, charged with the slaying of Zuta at a Wisconsin resort August 1.

Extradition papers, signed by Gov. Emmerson, have been received at the county jail, but the formalities require that Stanton be notified of his rights to a habeas corpus hearing.

His attorneys, Thomas Nash and Maxwell Ascrn, took the first step toward such a hearing with an application for a change of venue from Criminal Judge John P. McGoorty.

They expected to attempt to refute ballistics evidence, which indicated one of the bullets which killed Zuta was fired from a gun later found in Stanton's automobile.

Edgar Smith, Stanton's chauffeur, is also involved in the case.

When Moran denied he ever had anything to do with Jack Zuta, reporters reminded him that his name was found in the slain gangsters records.

"I can't explain that," he commented, "unless somebody was using my name. I never got a cut from Zuta."

Moran said he had a wife and child and for that reason wanted to lead a quiet life.

"I have a board meeting at the Central Cleaners this week. Then I'm going duck hunting."

He was asked about Leo Mongoven his reputed right hand man, with whom he is reported by Wisconsin authorities to have spent the summer at Bemidji, Minn.

"The newspapers said he was dead, didn't they?" he asked. "Well, maybe they're right. Mongoven's dead as far as I'm concerned."

It was State's Attorney A. V. Smith of Lake county, Wisconsin, who earlier today had said his information was that Mongoven was not dead but had been living at Bemidji with Moran. He said he wanted to question Moran, not only about Zuta's killing, but also about the triple slaying of Joe Bertche, Sam Pellar and Frank Quirk, Chicago gangsters, at Gross Lake, Wis., last May.

White Hall, Oct. 20.—The marriage on August second of Lowell E. Coonrod, and Miss Leala McKuerry has just been made public. The ceremony was performed at Center Grove, Iowa by the Methodist pastor of that vicinity. The couple were on a vacation at the time of the wedding.

The bride is a teacher in the Golden Era school northwest of White Hall and is now engaged on her third term. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newell McKuerry who are located over three miles north of Carrollton. She graduated from the Carrollton high school in the class of 1927.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Coonrod of White Hall and graduated from the White Hall high school in 1928. He has since been connected with the Kroger grocery in White Hall.

News Briefs

The needy condition of a woman and two children, who applied at the White Hall Welfare League headquarters today stirred local interest in the welfare work of the community. The dispensary of clothing is located on the second floor of the city hall under the direction of Mrs. C. E. Brown, president. Mrs. Brown stated that those who have clothes for the needy may take it there or indicate that they wish some one to call for the articles. More money is needed for shoes, it is also announced as the sum raised last year is almost exhausted. The president is urging support for the committee in their work to relieve the condition of the needy.

Apple harvest operations have been resumed in Greene county following the freezing temperatures Monday morning. It has been determined that the remaining crops have not been damaged. The temperature was down to twenty degrees at Drake and twenty-one at Hillview, while it was twenty-two at White Hall Monday morning. Tuesday morning the officials put it at thirty degrees and it is this gradual rise that has been the saving influence with the apple picking. A total of 77 cases have been sent from Drake so far and Hillview has contributed 100 cases. The extent of the winter crop depends on the next freezing spell.

The winnings of the rabbits from the White Hall Fur farm at St. Louis last week consisted of four blue ribbons, two red, two white, and two green, which totaled 192 points. They were paced only by Englewood Fur farm of Independence, Mo., which won 194 points. The number of other Illinois exhibits included Peoria, Springfield and Auburn. A. R. Peters the proprietor of the local farm proved to have a leading exhibit, giving the new White Hall institution a high standing in Illinois. He had the best Chinchilla heavyweight doe and the best Havana of any kind in the show, and missed only by a small fraction of having the best Chinchilla of all. The local farm will have entries also at the Des Moines on December 11, at the American Rabbit Breeding association which is the largest in the country.

ARTHUR WOODS TO HEAD NEW ORGANIZATION

The plan already has been used by the war department in flood control work, he said.

"By employing 2,000 men for three days a week instead of 1,000 for six days a week at least a meal ticket would be provided for all of them," he said.

While plans for the unemployed are being formulated, an additional inquiry into the needs of drought stricken farmers is to be undertaken by both railroads and the federal government to revise relief measures.

Will Meet Hoover.

New York, Oct. 21 —(AP)— Colonel Arthur Woods, New York City police commissioner from 1914 to 1917, today appointed head of a national unemployment relief organization by President Hoover, said tonight he would leave for Washington in a day or two to confer with the President.

He said he had definite plans for his new post, but refused to discuss them until he had seen the President.

Unemployment relief is no new undertaking for Colonel Woods. As special assistant to the secretary of war in 1919, he had charge of the job of finding work for former servicemen and helping their readjustment to civil pursuits.

Twin Falls, Idaho, Oct. 21—(AP)—Police were attempting today to determine why Clyde William Riley, 27, gave himself up yesterday, saying he robbed a bank in Astoria, Illinois, in July, 1928. Illinois officers wired in reply to an inquiry, that no bank at Astoria was robbed.

New York, Oct. 21—(AP)—Fatigued by the exertion of Monday's ambitious rally, the stock market suffered a relapse today and crawled back to bed.

After only momentary hesitation at the opening, prices went into a slow slump that erased all but a shade of yesterday's recovery. Net losses ran from 2 to 6 points in a turnover of 2,421,900 shares.

Weakness was general, although it was most conspicuous in the electrical equipment, oil and copper shares. The decline met little resistance until last Saturday's lows were approached; there was then a pallid rally that lifted the market moderately from its minimums, General Electric, Westinghouse, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Texas Corp., Anaconda, Kennecott, American Water Works, Public Service of New Jersey, International Harvester, Nash Motors, Hudson, Studebaker and several investment rails went to new lows for the year or longer.

Selling pressure against stocks carried many of the favorites severely lower. General Electric dropped 4 to 5, but recovered a point, closing 2½ lower. Standard Oil of New Jersey lost 3 to 53¼ before coming back fractionally. American Can failed to receive much support until it had tumbled 5 points. Its net loss was 4. Westinghouse, down 8¾ at the bottom, recovered 2 points and American Telephone regained a point of a 4 point loss. Allied Chemical, which had been 9½ lower, finished 6½ below the Monday close.

U. S. Steel sagged to 144¾, within ¼ of the year's low, and then rallied ¾ to close at 145¼, off 3¾. There were 2 to 3 point net declines in American & Foreign Power, American Water Works, Public Service of New Jersey, Penney, Case, American Tobacco "B", Paramount, Union Pacific and Sears Roebuck. East man Kodak and Houston Oil lost nearly 6 and Safeway Stores 7.

HOG PRICES IN CHICAGO FALL

Chicago, Oct. 21—(AP)—In probably the worst session of the season, prices on hogs dropped from a quarter to a half a dollar today to wipe out all the gains so carefully built up during the last week. Coming on the heels of yesterday's decline, prices are now 60c below last Friday. A stale carryover of 10,000 and a heavy run today proved too great a burden on the trade, despite the fact that shippers had a normal number of orders to fill. However, they waited until prices hit bottom before making purchases.

Native steers and yearlings of medium quality, making up the bulk of the cattle run, were not attractive to buyers and activity was slow most of the day. Sales were made at about the same as yesterday.

Lambs held the strong position they won yesterday and both packers and shippers came out for their orders and paid steady prices without grumbling. Smaller total receipts so far this week, as compared with last week, was largely responsible.

New York, Oct. 21—(AP)—Trading in cotton was comparatively quiet again today and prices held steady within a range of 5 or 6 points. CURB MARKET SLIPS LOWER

By Claude A. Jagger
Associated Press Financial Editor

New York, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The curb market slipped still lower today, losing most of yesterday's gains, and recording many new minimum levels. Trading, however, was moderate, with a turnover of 565,700 shares, somewhat less than that of the preceding session.

Oils were unsettled by the reports of further softening of gasoline and crude prices. The standard shares were distinctly heavy. Standard of Indiana, which normally move in a small trading area, sagged nearly a point to a new low for the year at 40¾. Standard of Nebraska tumbled nearly 3 and Standard of Ohio more than 4 to new bottoms. Gulf declined more than 3, also to a new low. Cities Service closed off ⅝, at 24.

Several of the utility shares were again under effective selling pressure. Electric Bond and Share dropped 3 points to within a shade of its recent low, then rallied fractionally, and United Light A each lost two. Nevada California and Tampa Electric were two lightly traded issues to move against the trend, both showing gains of about 3 points. Natural Gas stocks eased.

In the industrials, Aluminum Co., Babcock and Wilcox, and Shaeffer Pen dropped 2 to 3 points to new lows, and Perfect Circle 5. National Steel Car, which is rarely traded, sold at 32, off nearly 20 points from the preceding transaction. Ford, Ltd., was steady, closing a shade higher.

In the investment company group, Continental shares convertible preferred, in which the market is thin, sold at 50, off 18 points.

Investment trust shares generally were inclined to ease, altho changes were largely narrow. The Prince and Whiteley issues were quiet and steady, however, and Prudential investors rallied a point.

BOND MARKET IS ON DECLINE

By Donald C. Bolles
Associated Press Financial Writer

New York, Oct. 21.—(AP)—A slightly easier tone in the money market proved of no value as a stimulant to bond buying today. Trading in domestic issues was dull and price movement displayed about the same characteristics as in recent sessions. Declines slightly exceeded the advances.

A few foreign issues reached new highs for the current advance. Chile sixes of 1961, Cundinamarca 6½s, Dominican 1st. 5½s, Boliva eights, Santa Fe Argentine sevens, and Uruguay eights and sixes gained a point or more. Most of the Brazilian issues that had been strong in recent sessions were heavy in thin trading, Brazil eights reacted 1½ points.

While most of the investment section moved quietly in a narrow grove, convertible and stock purchase bonds were again reactionary in sympathy with stocks. Warner Brothers sixes, Atchison 4½s, Alleghany Corporation fives, and General Theatres sixes declined a point or more.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL C[illegible] PICTURES by KNECK

READ THE STORY—THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

Said Clowny "It might be all right to stay up here until it's night, so we can look down on the town and see the flashing lights. But I am starved. I'd rather eat. I think we'd best pass up this street. I'm sure we'll never miss it, since we've seen so many sights."

"All right, young fellow, I'll agree", replied the Travel Man. "We'll see what sort of cafe we can find. I'm rather hungry, too. You'll like the journey back to town 'cause all the way we'll travel down. This spot is on a real high hill. Lead on! I'll follow you."

So, down the hill the Tinies went. Cried Clowny, "It is my intent to lead you to a real good meal. I'll find it 'ere I'm done. We'll order all that we can eat from vegetables to juicy meat. And then we'll take our time and it will be a lot of fun."

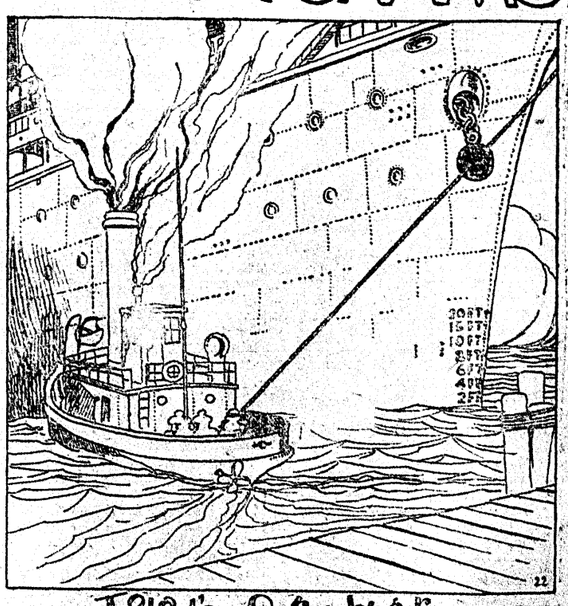

And soon he did just what he said. They found a spot and all were fed until they simply had to stop. The Travel Man said, "That is how I like to see you feast. You've eaten all you could, at least. I'm frankly very much surprised that you are not real fat."

They sauntered then, on down the street. "Oh, look whom we are going to meet," cried Coppy as two girls came near. "They're sweet as they can be." The Travel Man replied: "You bet! An introduction you shall get." And soon one girl said, "Little boys like you we're glad to see."

The girls, at first, were rather shy, and shortly Clowny shouted, "I will buy us all some candy. There's a store across the street." So, to the store they promptly went and some of Clowny's coins were spent. One of the girls said, "My, oh, my, we quite enjoy this treat."

(The Tinymites make some more purchases in the next story).

HOW WILL BROUGHT BEFORE COURT IN CASE FOR CONTEST

St. Louis, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Suit to determine who is entitled to the $300,000 trust estate created for the benefit of the late James Eads How, "millionaire hobo" was filed in St. Louis circuit court today by Frank B. Coleman as attorney for former Judge Jesse McDonald and the St. Louis Union Trust Company.

The suit is directed against How's brother, Louis How of New York, and Holger Sorenson How, 13, of Los Angeles, Calif., reputed to be an adopted son of James Eads How, who died at Staunton, Va., last July.

The trustees aver they are wholly impartial and disinterested as to whether either claimant is entitled to the trust estate and are only concerned in doing their duty as trustee under the will of the late Mrs. Eliza How, mother of James and Louis, who created the trust. The family was a famous one of St. Louis in ante bellum days and How's maternal grandfather, James B. Eads, constructed Eads bridge across the Mississippi river here.

RAILROADS WILL CONTINUE CHEAP RATES, IS CLAIM

Washington, Oct. 21—(AP)—President Hoover announced today that the railroads of the country have agreed to continue until December 1, the 50 per cent decrease in rates upon livestock being moved out of drought stricken areas and fed being moved into these areas for livestock.

Although the December 1 date has been set, the chief executive said the aid of the railways would not nececcitarily end at that time.

In the next six weeks, an exhaustive inquiry into actual needs of the drought-stricken farmers is to be undertaken both by the government and the railroads to permit a revamping of the relief measures.

OFFICIAL PUBLICATION

A statement of and concerning a certain Act of the Fifty-sixth General Assembly to be submitted to the people to be voted on at the general election to be held in November, 1930, entitled as follows:

"AN ACT in relation to the acquisition and establishment by the State of Illinois, of a State-wide system of conservation and forest preserves and public recreation grounds, and the provision of means for the payment of the cost thereof by an issue of bonds of the State of Illinois."

Said Act is to be submitted to the people to be voted on at the general election to be held in the State of Illinois, at the several voting places in the State, on the 4th day of November, A. D. 1930.

Which said Act is in words and figures as follows:

AN ACT in relation to the acquisition and establishment by the State of Illinois, of a State-wide system of conservation and forest preserves and public recreation grounds, and the provision of means for the payment of the cost thereof by an issue of bonds of the State of Illinois.

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Illinois, represented in the General Assembly:

SECTION 1. A State-wide system of conservation and forest preserves and public recreation grounds shall be acquired and established by the State of Illinois, and the State of Illinois (acting through its officers), is authorized and empowered to issue, sell and provide for the retirement of bonds of the State of Illinois to the amount of fourteen million dollars ($14,000,000.00) for the purpose of paying the cost of acquiring and establishing the State-wide system of conservation and forest preserves and public recreation grounds. Before this law which authorizes the debt to be contracted and levies the tax for the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds to be issued as an evidence of the debt, shall go into force and effect, it shall be submitted to the people at the general election in November, A. D. 1930, and receive a majority of the votes cast for members of the General Assembly at such election.

§ 2. The State-wide system of conservation and forest preserves and public recreation grounds shall be composed of all fishing and hunting grounds and of all fish and game preserves, refuges, rest grounds and sanctuaries now owned by the State of Illinois, and of tracts of land to be acquired in various places throughout the State, under the provisions of this Act.

The Department of Conservation shall acquire as nearly as may be, an average of 2,000 acres of upland in each county in the State. Land lying along or traversed by a stream of water which is elevated and dry except for the channel of such stream may be acquired as upland. The department shall also purchase 80,000 acres, as nearly as may be, of lowlands, land commonly known as river bottom and/or marsh land. Both upland and lowland shall be purchased at an average price of not to exceed $50.00 per acre, if possible.

The lands acquired under the provisions of this Act shall be chosen for their scenic beauty, their availability for general recreational purposes, their suitability for reforestation and forest purposes and the propagation of wild life and their suitability for fishing and hunting purposes.

§ 3. Of the lands acquired under the provisions of this Act:

1. Twenty-five per cent shall be set aside as sanctuaries for song and game birds and wild animals, and for fish hatcheries and preserves, and shall be reforested;

2. Ten per cent shall be set aside as camping, including tourist camps, hiking, picnicking and general outdoor recreational grounds; and

3. The remaining 65 per cent of such lands shall be open to the public for fishing and hunting in accordance with the "Fish Code of Illinois" and the "Game Code of Illinois" except that trapping is prohibited.

The lands so set aside as sanctuaries for song and game birds and wild animals, and as camping, hiking, picnicking and general outdoor recreational grounds shall not be used for hunting, fishing or trapping purposes, nor shall any hunting, fishing or trapping be permitted therein, except that the department may destroy any predatory or destructive animals or birds on such lands, or remove rough or undesirable fish from preserves.

The lands so set aside as sanctuaries for song and game birds and wild animals and to be reforested shall be handled by the department in accordance with the most approved methods of forestry having due regard for the conservation and propagation of game.

The department may devote not to exceed one hundred acres of each one thousand acres of the land acquired under the provisions of this Act to the production of grain suitable for feed for song and game birds and for wild animals. The department may do the work necessary to produce this grain or may lease this land to others who will produce the grain for a grain rent that is customary in the locality.

No part of the lands open to the public for fishing and hunting may be leased except for the production of grain as above provided but the Department of Conservation may lease a portion of the land set aside for general recreation to associations or organizations organized for humanitarian purposes and not for profit, as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Catholic Boys Brigade, church and civic clubs, farm bureaus and labor organizations and like organizations, for a nominal rental of not to exceed five dollars per annum and for a term of not to exceed five years, but not more than five acres shall be leased to any one group or organization. All moneys so received shall be paid into the conservation and public recreation fund in the State treasury.

The Department of Conservation may close not to exceed 25 per cent of the lands open to the public for fishing and hunting for a period of not to exceed one year and prohibit fishing and hunting therein during such period in order to permit fish and game to propagate.

§ 4. The issuance, sale and retirement of the bonds and the acquisition and establishment of the State-wide system of conservation and forest preserves and public recreation grounds, and everything incidental thereto, shall be under the general supervision and control of the Department of Conservation, subject to the approval of the Governor. The Department of Conservation is authorized, empowered and directed to take whatever steps may be necessary to cause the bonds to be issued and sold and to cause the State-wide system of conservation and forest preserves and public recreation grounds to be acquired and established.

There is hereby created an advisory board to be known as the conservation and public recreation board consisting of seven members to be appointed by the Governor with the consent of the Senate. Of the members of this board, one shall be a prominent banker, one a prominent member of organized labor, one a person prominent in forestry and reforestation work, one an active member of some organization interested in public playgrounds or other like recreational grounds, one a prominent farmer and two persons who are prominent sportsmen, of this State.

Of the members of such board first appointed two shall be appointed for a term of two years, two for a term of four years and three for a term of six years from the third Monday in January, 1931, and until their successors are appointed and qualified. Thereafter their successors shall hold for a term of six years. The Governor may remove any member of this board at any time for failure to carry out the duties herein imposed or for any other misconduct in office. The members of this board shall receive a per diem of not to exceed ten dollars per day and shall be reimbursed for their actual expenses incurred while performing their duties under this Act. None of the members of such special board shall be an employee of the State nor shall any member be interested, directly or indirectly, in the sale of any property acquired under the provisions of this Act. If any such member is interested in the sale of any property so acquired, the contract for the purchase of such property shall be void and any conveyance executed in furtherance thereof shall be voidable at the option of the Department of Conservation.

This conservation and public recreation advisory board shall have the power and it shall be its duty:

To advise with the Department of Conservation and to assist the department in selecting land to be acquired, in the management and development of these lands, in determining which portions shall be set aside for sanctuaries and reforestation, and for public recreation grounds, in formulating rules and regulations governing the use and occupancy of these lands, and in carrying out all of the provisions of this Act.

§ 5. For the purpose of raising the sum necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act, bonds of the State of Illinois to an amount not exceeding the sum of fourteen million dollars ($14,000,000) shall be issued and sold as herein provided. The bonds shall bear interest, payable semi-annually, from the date of their issue, at the rate of three and one-half per centum per annum, unless financial conditions make a different rate advisable, in which case the Department of Conservation may, with the Governor's approval, issue part or all of the bonds at any other rate of interest not exceeding four per centum per annum. The bonds shall be serial bonds and be dated, issue and sold from time to time as the establishment of the State-wide system of conservation and forest preserves and public recreation grounds progresses and in such amounts as may be necessary to provide sufficient money to carry out the provisions of this Act, except that bonds for an amount in excess of one million four hundred thousand dollars shall not be issued and sold during any one year; provided however, that the first sale of bonds shall not be made until there is a balance or surplus of at least seven hundred fifty thousand dollars in the conservation and public recreation fund.

Each bond shall be in the denomination of five hundred dollars ($500.00), or some multiple thereof, and shall be made payable within thirty years from date. The bonds shall be engraved and printed by the Department of Purchases and Construction, under the direction of the Governor and be signed by the Governor and attested by the Secretary of State, under the seal of the State, and countersigned by the State Treasurer and by the Auditor of Public Accounts. The bonds shall be deposited, until sold, with the State Treasurer, and when sold, the proceeds shall be paid into the State Treasury, and become a part of the State bond conservation and public recreation fund.

§ 6. In any year in which the current revenue or accumulated surplus is sufficient to make unnecessary the selling of all or any part of the bonds to be sold in that year, such bonds may be returned to the State treasury marked cancelled if an amount of such revenue or surplus equal to the amount of the bonds so cancelled is used for the purchase of land as provided in this Act.

§ 7. The Department of Conservation shall have the care, control, supervision and management of the State-wide system of conservation and forest preserves and public recreation grounds, and its officers and such of its employees as the director may designate, are vested with police powers for the enforcement of the laws of the State and the rules and regulations of the department.

§ 8. The Department of Conservation, in addition to the other powers vested in it by this Act, is empowered:

1. To receive lands by donation or devise for the State-wide system of conservation and forest preserves and public recreation.

2. To make and enforce rules and regulations for the use, care, improvement, control and administration of the State-wide system of conservation and forest preserves and public recreation grounds.

3. To lay out, construct and maintain roads, trails, bridges, camp sites, shelters, houses, and other reasonably necessary or convenient improvements.

§ 9. All payments for land purchased or obligations incurred under the provisions of this Act shall be made by the State Treasurer out of the State bond conservation and public recreation fund upon warrants drawn by the Auditor of Public Accounts, based upon bills of particulars and vouchers certified by the proper official of the Department of Conservation having knowledge of the facts upon which such vouchers are based, and audited and approved by the Director of Conservation and approved by the Governor, acting through the Department of Finance.

§ 10. The Department of Conservation shall, on or before the first day of February of each year, make a full report to the Governor of all business transacted by the department in carrying out the provisions of this Act during the year ending on the preceding thirty-first day of December. The Governor may examine the books and affairs of said department relating to the work provided for herein, to be audited in each year.

§ 11. The money in the conservation and public recreation fund created by and under the provisions of "An Act to revise the law in relation to the conservation of fish, mussels, frogs and turtles in the State of Illinois, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof and to repeal all Acts in conflict with this Act," approved June 30, 1923, as amended, and "An Act to revise the law in relation to the conservation of game, wild animals, wild fowls and birds in the State of Illinois, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof, and to repeal all Acts in conflict with this Act," approved June 30, 1923, as amended, shall first be appropriated and used for the purpose of paying and discharging the principal and interest on the bonded indebtedness herein provided for, then due and payable. Each year after this Act becomes fully operative and until all of said bonds shall have become retired, there shall be included in and added to the tax levied for State purposes, a direct annual tax for such amount as shall be necessary and sufficient to pay the interest as it shall accrue, on each and every bond issued under the provisions of this Act, and also to pay and discharge the principal of such bonds at par value, as such bonds respectively fall due; and the respective amounts of such direct annual tax shall be appropriated for that specific purpose. The required rate of such direct annual tax shall be fixed each year by the officers charged by law with fixing the rate for State taxes on the valuation of real and personal property in this State subject to taxation, in accordance with the provisions of the statute in such cases. However, if money from other sources of revenue shall have been appropriated and set apart for the same purpose for which said direct annual tax is hereby levied and imposed, then said officers shall, in fixing said rate of said direct annual tax, make proper allowance and reduction for any such money so appropriated and set apart from other sources of revenue. Said direct annual tax shall be, and it is hereby levied and imposed as herein provided, and such direct annual tax shall be assessed, levied and collected in the same manner prescribed by law in the case of general State taxes, and shall be paid into the treasury of the State by the officers legally entrusted with the duty of collecting and accounting for general State taxes. No such direct annual tax, however, shall be levied for any year in which a sufficient amount of money from other sources of revenue has been appropriated and set apart to pay the interest as it shall accrue on said bonds for that year and also to pay and discharge the principal of any of said bonds falling due during such year.

§ 12. This Act authorizing the State to contract the debt for the purchase set forth herein, and as an evidence of such debt, to issue bonds of the State of Illinois to the amount of fourteen million dollars ($14,000,000.00) and providing that in case other sources of revenue are sufficient no direct tax shall be levied but in case such other sources of revenue are insufficient any deficiency shall be raised by a direct annual tax and levying a direct annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such bonds, as such interest shall accrue, and also to pay and discharge the principal of such bonds at par value, as such bonds respectively fall due, but providing that such payments may be first made from other sources of revenue, shall be submitted to the People of this State at the general election to be held on Tuesday next after the first Monday of November, A. D., 1930; said Act shall be so submitted on a separate ballot, which shall be in substantially the following form:

Ayers National Bank Increases Shares of Capital Stock from 5,000 Shares to 25,000 Shares $20---Par Value

Action Similar to That of Chase National and National City Bank of New York City and Many Other Large Banks Throughout The Country

The Directors of The Ayers National Bank at a meeting held yesterday, adopted a resolution recommending to the Stockholders the increase in the number of shares of the Capital Stock from 5,000 to 25,000 of $20 par value.

The McFadden Amendment to the National Banking Laws passed by Congress in 1927, granting the privilege to National Banks of fixing the par value of their shares to a less amount than $100, the amount previously required, has been adopted by the Chase National Bank and the National City Bank of New York and other banks in that and other large cities. These banks have made a reduction in the par value of their shares to $20. This has offered a wider distribution of their shares and has proved beneficial. The action taken by the Ayers National Bank in availing itself of the privilege granted under the law is in conformity with the tendency of the present time.

This recommendation is the most recent of several interesting events that have made 1930 an outstanding year in the history of the bank. Last January, the capital stock was increased from $200,000 to $500,000 by transferring $300,000 from undivided profits to the capital stock account, which gave to each stockholder one and one-half additional shares for each share held. The bank also paid to the stockholders, in addition to the regular dividend, a special cash dividend of $100,000 from the earnings of 1929. Early in the year, the Farrell State Bank became a part of the Ayers National Bank.

Deposits have increased from $3,838,679.16 as of December 31, 1920 to $7,316,782.16 on October 1, 1930. Net earnings have averaged $110,580.47 for the last ten years, $135,391.45 for the last five years and were $132,115.55 for 1929. Dividends of $16,000 per annum were paid from 1911 to 1927, $24,000 during the next three-year period and in July 1930, a semi-annual dividend of $30,000 was paid. The management has followed a consistent policy of plowing back a large part of the net earnings each year until the capital assets are now more than $1,300,000. In their opinion, this amount is fully adequate to meet the requirements of the business and the stockholders should receive a large proportion of the earnings.

In connection with the increase of the capital stock from 5,000 to 25,000 shares, it is reported that the present stockholders will release a limited portion of their shares for sale to the public. Public Utility companies have found a wide distribution of their stock to be beneficial and a wider distribution of the stock of The Ayers National Bank would undoubtedly result in similar benefits.

PUBLIC LIBRARY

Several new and very interesting books were placed on exhibition yesterday at the Public library, and will soon be available to readers. In going over the list, we find the following interesting volumes:

"The Appointed Date", by J. Jefferson Farjeon, which is a choice piece for those readers of mystery. "The Fool of the Family," by Margaret Kennedy, which is a sequel to "The Story of Sanger's Circus." "Miss Mole," by E. H. Young, is a brand new novel on a theme so seldom used, that of character study. For contemporary thinkers and philosophers, there is a treatise on "Civilization and Its Discontents," by Sigmund Freud, the title itself and the name of the author suggesting treatment of a psychoanalytic nature. For the lovers of nature, and, especially, of beautiful gardens, the book "From a New Garden," by Mrs. Francis King, should certainly have wide appeal. A romantic story of wanderings and discoveries in the tropics is told in "Sir She Said," by Alec Waugh. "Prosperity Street," by Barnaby Brook, is a typical life story of an ambitious man who rose from gay poverty to the responsibilities of success. "The House of Strange Victims" by Betram Atkey, is another mystery story, filled with daring and adventure. "The Island," by Naomi Royde-Smith, treats of love in a new manner. Last, but not least, is Edwin Granberry's "The Erl King," with native Florida as the background on which is figured a strange family that bravely faces the ups and downs of life, only to be destroyed in the end.

Albert Bartelheim of the Concord vicinity was seriously injured early yesterday afternoon when he fell into a moving corn picker, suffering deep lacerations and bruises on his right arm and left leg. The extent of the injuries had not been determined late Tuesday.

Dazed from the shock and bleeding profusely, he was rushed to the Passavant hospital here, where he was given medical attention by Dr. Duncan. DR. PRINCE IS TAKEN BY DEATH IN SPRINGFIELD

Former Jacksonville Resident Dies Very Suddenly Tuesday

Dr. Arthur Prince, 76, a native of Jacksonville and widely known as an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, died suddenly at his home in Springfield Tuesday from a complication of diseases. He was one of three children of Dr. David Prince, one of the city's prominent early residents, for whom the Junior High school building is named.

Dr. Arthur Prince had been in failing health for a number of months. He retired in July from active operation of the Prince Sanitarium in Springfield.

The Prince family figured prominently in the early social, educational and professional activities in Jacksonville. Dr. David Prince was one of the West's leading surgeons. About 1867 he established a sanitarium in Jacksonville for the treatment of surgical and chronic cases, to which he gave the closing years of his life. The elder Dr. Prince died here Dec. 19, 1889.

His son, Arthur, prepared himself for the same profession. He was one of the first medical students in this part of the country who specialized in eye, ear, nose and throat diseases. Entering this field of practice, he met with success. His name has stood high in professional rank for many years.

Arthur Prince for a number of years engaged in practice in the sanitarium conducted here by his father. Following the death of Dr. David Prince, the Jacksonville institution was sold. It was located on the west side of Sandy street a short distance south of the square.

Dr. Arthur Prince then moved to Springfield and with his brother, the late Dr. John Prince established the Prince Sanitarium which is located at Seventh street and Capitol avenue. Dr. Prince for many years was a frequent visitor in Jacksonville. In recent years he had been an occasional visitor to members of the profession and the hospitals.

He is survived by his wife and three children. He has a sister residing in Duluth, Minn.

Funeral arrangements were not complete Tuesday.

GRANT L. HUGHES TELLS VETERANS ABOUT CONCLAVE

Hospitilization Taken Up at National Meet; Oxley Chow Club Head

That the American Legion's principal objective is the care of disabled veterans of the World War was the statement made at the October meeting of the Jacksonville Chow club, last night, by Grant L. Hughes, who attended the national convention of the Legion at Boston as a delegate from the 20th district. Mr. Hughes made an interesting report of the big conference in the east.

During the business session of the club, Lawrence Oxley was nominated, without opposition, as candidate for the office of president of the Chow club. Dr. F. G. Norbury also spoke briefly urging the veterans to support the tuberculosis sanitarium proposition to be voted upon on November 4.

Mr. Hughes gave in detail reports from the conferences he attended at the national Legion convention, referring especially to action taken for the care of disabled veterans of Illinois.

The Jacksonville Legionnaire stated that a committee composed of Arthur Poorman, commander of Illinois; Edward Hayes, past commander of the state; John S. Telle, Dr. Griffin, medical director and Mr. Hughes had a conference with General Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans affairs relative to the policy of the American Legion of Illinois on hospitalization.

Former Commander Hayes presented the sentiment of the Jacksonville post which adopted the resolution demanding the Illinois program of hospitalization not be interferred with. Mr. Hayes said that it should be mandatory upon the bureau to see that the service connected NP cases who are not hospitalized are to be immediately brought into the hospital at North Chicago.

Mr. Hughes reported that Mr. Hayes further stated that the Illinois Legionnaires ask that the Veterans Bureau not interfere with the Illinois program until they have enough beds to take care of all veterans as they are presented to the county courts of Illinois for committment to institutions.

General Hines replied that he did not want to give up the beds already provided at Jacksonville and Elgin, and that it would be the policy of the bureau to cooperate. He stated that the federal government is grateful for the generosity of the people of Illinois during the period government beds were not available and that no one was able to say just when the peak would be reached with regard to this type of patient. He stated that in his opinion there would be need for these for many years to come.

Mr. Hughes characterized the parade as perhaps the greatest peacetime procession ever staged in the United States. It took the veterans from ten o'clock in the morning until 8:30 o'clock in the evening to pass the reviewing stand, and was one of the most orderly and colorful parades participated in by the veterans.

AUDITORIUM OF JUNIOR H. S. TO BE GYMNASIUM

Move Made to Care for Extra Program of Athletics at School

Authority for the conversion of the David Prince auditorium into an extra gymnasium for the junior high school was given the buildings and grounds committee and the superintendent of schools by vote of the Board of Education at its meeting last night. Supt. Ralph Yakel stated that the intra-mural athletic program in the junior high school has crowded the present gymnasium and cannot be carried thru unless additional room is secured. The auditorium is used only as a study hall for a small number of students. It was suggested in the meeting that the desks could be made movable, and that the room could thus be made available as a gymnasium.

Member Roberts was appointed by President Earl Spink to attend the convention of the Illinois State association of School Boards in Decatur on Thursday and Friday of this week. Several subjects of interest locally are to be discussed, and it is hoped to secure some useful information by having a representative at the convention.

The annual school audit was presented by the finance committee, and was accepted by the board and placed on file to be discussed at a later meeting. The report of the treasurer as of Oct. 1 showed a balance in the general fund of $6,338.84, and a balance of $20.47 in the building and repair fund, which has already been anticipated. Current bills amounting to $3,011.22 were allowed by the board.

The teachers' committee reported the resignation of Miss Ellamay Lashmet from the junior high school, which was accepted by the board. Miss Grace Fitch has been transferred from the Franklin school to take her place. Miss Murriel Sayle has been named as teacher in the Franklin school, and her appointment was confirmed by the board.

The superintendent in his report presented several statistical tables relative to the size of classes in the grades and the number of pupils per subject in the high school. The opening sentences of his report read as follows:

"During the past month your superintendent has visited all of the teachers in the public schools at least once. Over half of the teachers have been visited a second time. These visits ranged in length from 10 minutes to 40 minutes.

"It is a pleasure to report that the work seems to be going along in good shape. One thing that has been noticed is that our teachers are working with a little more confidence than they did last year. A large number of them having attended summer schools are putting the ideas learned there into effect. Other teachers made plans during the summer which they are carrying into effect. The fact that the board has furnished them with new supplementary material and books has also been a factor in securing improved instruction. The spirit of cooperation with this office has been excellent and there seems to be a good spirit in each of the schools."

In order to give his audience a chance to see just what intelligence tests were like, Dean Chappelear then gave the group the Otis Self-Administering Test of Mental Ability for students of high schools and colleges. Twenty minutes were allowed for the marking of the test, after which the papers were scored from the key sheet. VALUE OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION MADE CLEAR AT MEETING

T. A. Tripp Gives Address to Sunday School Conclave Here Tuesday

The reasons for maintaining religious education were pointed out last evening in a stimulating address made by T. A. Tripp, one of the principal speakers before the evening session of the Morgan County Conference of Sunday schools at the Central Christian church last night. For the mechanized civilization of today to exist and continue to live, it must have a heart within its mighty being and in no other way can this organ be provided as through the work of the church school whose teachers direct the minds of children toward Jesus Christ, was the main thought of the speaker's discourse.

There is danger, said Mr. Tripp, that the modern civilization will become like the mechanical man without a heart and will so only destroy man, its creator. The one group which can most effectively instill the feelings of a heart into the world are those such as are gathered in this audience for with them lies the great responsibility of forming the minds of young boys and girls when they are most pliable. There is some truth, went on the speaker, in the statement that the church is losing its soul and here is where the accomplishment of the children's teacher can be felt most keenly. The church school should have its share in the task of religious education and the church itself take up the burden where the other finishes. In conclusion Mr. Tripp gave a remarkable illustration of the most effective way of brining the child to an understanding of God.

The second address of the evening was made by Dr. F. B. Oxtoby, of the department of religious education of Illinois College. His remarks were met with decided interest on the part of his audience who felt his presense to be a contribution to the success of the conference. Also on the program for last evening was Noman Campbell who gave a vocal solo.

The morning and afternoon periods of the conference were crowded with discussion periods and sessions relative to the part which the local group now takes in the County Council plan. A good attendance was present throughout the day and for the dinner which preceded the evening meeting at six o'clock tonight. George Burnie, state secretary, delivered the addrses of the morning.
